Auto, Truck Crash

2 Couples Die In California

Eureka, Calif. (INS)—Four Nebraska residents were killed instantly Thursday as their car collided with a logging truck on U.S. Highway 101, 35 miles north of Eureka.

The dead were:

Kenneth L. Larsen, 32, of Holdrege Neb.

Dora Lee Larsen, 27, Holdrege Neb.

Carl Bennett, 51, Orleans, Neb.

Mrs. Carl Bennett, no age available.

Cheryl Larsen, almost 2, daughter of the Larsens, was hurled from the car by the impact and was in critical condition in an Arcata hospital.

The California Highway Patrol said the car, driven by Larsen, made a left turn into the path of the northbound truck, driven by Louis H. Wilson Jr., 24, of Eureka.

Bodies of the two men, who were in the front seat, had to be removed from the crushed wreckage with blow torches.

Relatives said the Bennetts and their daughter, Mrs. Larsen, her husband and Cheryl left Nebraska Saturday for California. They were en route to visit with the Bennetts' daughter, Mrs. Carla Larsen at Palmdale, Calif., at the time of the accident.

The Bennetts were longtime residents of Orleans, where Mr. Bennett served as school custodian. Mr. Larsen was employed by the Co-Op Oil Co. at Holdrege.

The Larsens left their 4-month-old baby with Mr. Larsen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Larsen of Atlanta.

Tension Broken For Jurors

Smiles broke across the sober faces of members of the Starkweather jury for a moment Thursday night when, as they were leaving the courthouse for the hotel, one of their number suddenly exclaimed: "Oh my goodness! I left my nightie upstairs." A matron retrieved the box containing the essential garment for Mrs. George McDonald Jr. (shown clutching the box). At right, Mrs. Adeline E. Muehlbeier, fellow juror, smiles a little trying to be helpful. (Staff Photo by Bob Gorham.)

Dying Albion Girl Concerned Most With Fate Of Her Slain Boy Friend

Lincoln Star Special

Albion, Neb. — "Diane was quite concerned for Jerry," said Mrs. Frank Svoboda, describing the 20-25 minutes she was alone with the dying girl awaiting help.

"Go help Jerry. Is Jerry all right? Those were her first words to me."

Only moments before Mrs. Svoboda had tried to protect the 17-year-old Diane Zaruba from the fatal bullet fired by Kermit Keeshan, also 17. Only minutes before Keeshan also shot Jerry Sherwood, 18.

The plucky housewife said she assured Diane that Jerry was all right ("I didn't know he was dead") and tried to comfort Diane.

'Will Be All Right'

"I didn't realize she was dying, but she must have been," Mrs. Svoboda said. "I was sincere when I told her everything would be all right when the ambulance and doctor arrived."

"She kept asking about Jerry. Then later she said 'I don't want to die' and repeated the Lord's prayer in its entirety."

Mrs. Svoboda said Diane didn't say what had happened to Jerry and "I didn't ask."

Mrs. Svoboda said the girl recognized Lynn Sherwood, Jerry's father, when he arrived, but soon afterwards seemed to slip into a coma.

Mrs. Frank Svoboda . . . tried in vain to halt slaying.

Diane died about 40 minutes after she had been shot.

Mrs. Svoboda said she first saw Diane on the back porch of the Laura Tisthammer home, where the girl was staying. "Kermit was fumbling with his rifle. Diane broke away and ran."

"Kermit fired once. Diane fell. She got up and screamed, 'Help me, Mrs. Svoboda.' I told her to run into the house."

Mrs. Svoboda blocked Keeshan's entrance at the kitchen door. "I grabbed the rifle barrel and pushed it down. Then I slapped him hard and shook him by his shirt. Kermie, you're not going to shoot anyone, I said."

The housewife said Keeshan stood there for a moment dazed. "I thought he was going to leave. Then he said, 'I am, too' and fired at Diane over my shoulder."

"It all happened so fast. For a moment, I thought it was all over and he was going to leave. I guess Diane did, too. She just stayed behind me instead of running on through the house. Then Kermie fired over my shoulder."

Mrs. Svoboda said that Jerry and Diane had been "going together about 3 years," She said Kermit had also gone with the girl during the past year.

Another resident said Jerry and Diane had broken up about a year ago, but had been dating again the past several weeks.

Gail Simms, Albion school superintendent, described young Sherwood as an honor student. "He had a Regent's Scholarship and was headed for the University. I believe he was serious about studying medicine."

Diane was an honor student and 2nd in the junior class.

8 Nikes Explode; 7 Dead

Middletown, N.J. (AP) — A powerful Nike guided missile blew up on the ground here Thursday and exploded 7 others in a tremendous blast of fire and fury. All were fully armed for warfare.

Seven to 10 persons died in a split second of disintegrating force and flame. From the scattered human fragments, it was impossible to set the death toll. Brig. Gen. Charles B. Duff of the Army Air Defense Command, said it would be at least 7 and could be 10.

Three others were injured. Victims included both civilians and servicemen.

Each of the missiles carried 3 warheads. The explosion strewed these expensive devices across a wide range of countryside. Most of them were accounted for but others still lay unexploded like booby traps.

"Reasonably Safe"

"We do feel the area now is reasonably safe," Duff said.

The explosion spewed forth a great orange ball of fire over the missile base here. It cast an eerie, atomic-like pall over a scene of carnage that one eyewitness called "horrible beyond imagination."

However, the missiles did not bear atomic warheads, but conventional ones of shrapnel and high explosives.

Out of the smoke and flames, one of the sleek, liquid-fueled rockets launched itself at the instant of the explosion. It spent itself harmlessly in open terrain after a sinister, unguided flight for 2 miles over populated areas.

Eyewitnesses spoke of flaming piece of other missiles arching red across the rolling countryside here.

★ ★ ★ ★ Youth Unable To Remember Killing

Omaha (AP) — Deputy Douglas County Attorney John Clark said Thursday night that Kermit Keeshan, 17, cannot remember the events that culminated in Kermit shooting Albion High School classmates Jerry Sherwood, 18, and Diane Zaruba, 17, Wednesday night.

Clark questioned Kermit, who fired a bullet into his head after killing Jerry and Diane.

Clark related that Kermit said he could remember nothing after Diane told him she was going on a picnic with Jerry until later something hit him in the jaw. Clark said that probably was when Kermit shot himself.

Hunting Plans

The .22 rifle used in the shootings was in his car because he planned to go rabbit hunting, the youth told Clark at an Omaha hospital.

Clark said Kermit also recalled that Diane had given him back his class ring about 2 or 3 weeks ago. He had dated Diane for 6 months, Kermit said.

William Keeshan, father of Kermit, said at the hospital "it's hard to say anything now. I have so much sympathy for the 2 young people whose lives were wiped out and their families.

'No Future'

"You might say the 3 young people. There no longer is any future for my son," Keeshan added sadly.

Keeshan said 2 concussions suffered by Kermit, one in a fall from a horse and one in an auto accident, had an effect on the boy "although I had thought he was making improvement."

"Kermit had trouble sleeping and I'd talk to him. But I never dreamed anything like this would happen."

—DELIBERATIONS RESUME THIS MORNING—

Starkweather Jurors Retire After 3 Hours

. . . Scheele Asks Death Penalty; Defense Attorneys Plead Mercy

By Del Harding

The 12 jurors deliberating the fate of mass killer Charles Starkweather retired for the night at 10:07 p.m. Thursday without reaching a verdict.

They will resume their deliberations at 9 a.m. Friday and continue until they reach a verdict or a hung jury results. The jurors received the case at 5:24 p.m. and spent about 2 hours and 48 minutes in the jury room (they took one hour and 55 minutes to eat supper at a local restaurant.)

Newsmen lining the halls of the Lancaster District Courtroom where the 14-day trial was held leaped for their telephones at 9:33 p.m. when the jury bell rang. But it turned out the jurors only wanted to send word to Judge Harry A. Spencer that they were tired and wanted to retire for the night.

Judge Spencer then made arrangements for them to stay (which they will do each night until a verdict is reached).

5 Choices

The jury has 5 choices: finding Starkweather guilty of first degree murder, second degree murder, manslaughter, innocent by reason of insanity or simply innocent. The prosecution has asked the death penalty (which would require a first degree murder conviction verdict plus the recommendation of the jury) and the defense has asked the jurors to find Starkweather insane (he would then be committed to the Lincoln State Hospital).

Defense attorney William F. Matschullat, keeping a vigil at the Courthouse, said he believes the longer the jury is out the better are Starkweather's chances to escape the death penalty. He pointed out, however, that it is entirely possible that due to the relatively short time the jury deliberated jurors have not yet even taken a ballot on the fate of the redhead.

Starkweather was taken to the City Jail at Police Headquarters for supper, and then was returned to the State Penitentiary for safekeeping about 9:45 p.m., after Judge Spencer had relayed the word that the jury was retiring for the night.

Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele asked the death penalty for Starkweather in his closing argument for the prosecution, and declared it was the first time in his more than 3 years in office that he has deemed it necessary.

If the jury had seen the things he had seen since Dec. 1 (when Starkweather claimed his first victim), they would understand the request for the death penalty, Scheele told the jury. (Starkweather has admitted involvement in 10 murders since he admittedly shot Robert Colvert of Lincoln Dec. 1.)

Starkweather's defense attorneys, T. Clement Gaughan and Matschullat, had made impassioned appeals for the life of the client in their closing arguments. Gaughan had the courtroom spellbound when he took the jurors on an im-

New U.S. 'Brink' Is Charged

. . . HST Sees 'Mess'

Chicago (AP)— Harry S. Truman Thursday night declared the United States "may be on the brink of one of the greatest foreign policy disasters in its history."

"The free world alliances, on which our security depends, are threatened," the former President said in an address in which he accused the Eisenhower administration of making a mess of thing at home and abroad.

He said the people want the truth and the facts about the recession, and he added:

"They want action at the top for the good of the nation and the welfare and the benefit of the ordinary citizen."

He also said in a typical give-'em-hell speech:

"We may be on the brink of one of the greatest foreign policy disasters of our history."

$100 A Plate

Truman was the featured speaker at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner in the Conrad Hilton Hotel sponsored by the Cook County (Chicago) Democrats.

"The Rpublicans are making a mess of things in Washington and we must do something about it before it is too late," he said.

Other speakers included Adlai Stevenson, Chicago Mayor Richard Daley and Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Stevenson, twice-defeated Democratic candidate for President, commented on what he called "the recent and increasing anti-American incident in Lebanon, Algeria, Indonesia, Haiti and everywhere . . ."

The principal answer to the what-to-do question, he suggested, is to increase the Democratic majorities in Congress in the elections this fall, and to elect a Democratic President in 1960.

Earlier, he told newsmen that the Democrats will win both tests if current conditions continue.

Truman, in his speech, contended the Eisenhower administration:

"Increased unemployment by more than 100%"—from about 2 million when he left the White House to more than 5 million now.

"Reduced farm income from some 17 billion dollars in 1952 to less than 12 billion in 1957."

Fleeson To Be On Person To Person

Television viewers will have an opportunity to see and hear Doris Fleeson, Washington political correspondent, whose column appears regularly in The Lincoln Star, when she is visited in her Georgetown, D.C., home by Edward R. Murrow on "Person To Person," Friday night.

The program will be seen on KOLNTV (Ch. 10) and WOWTV (Ch. 6) at 9:30 p.m.

DEFENDANT UNOBTRUSIVE AS ATTORNEYS END TASK

Forgotten man in the final day of proceedings and beginning of jury deliberation was the defendant, Charles Starkweather. The teenager, looking near his age in an open-necked white shirt without tie, sat quietly and received hardly a glance during the Thursday proceedings which featured attorneys' closing statements and the first few decisionless hours of jury deliberation.

Defense attorney T. Clement Gaughan estimated a 24-hour deliberation before a verdict is reached, and told Charles' father, Guy Starkweather, "I just hope they don't burn him."

Ike Acts Against Midair Collisions

. . . Five-Point Plan Announced

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower, heeding demands for quick action to reduce the number of aircraft collisions in midair, issued orders Thursday for an emergency safety program.

The new air regulations, some of which will go into effect within a few days, are designed to put tighter restrictions on the bullet-like flights of military aircraft and keep them off civilian airlanes when they are engaged in dangerous maneuvers.

At first the Prsident intended to leave corrective measures to his Air Coordination Committee, headed by Lt. Gen. Elwood R. (Pet) Quesada, a retired Air Force officer. He had directed Quesada to start a study of the problem Friday.

But later in the day, after conferring with members of a House subcommittee working on aviation safety, Eisenhower decided on prompter steps.

He authorized Quesada to instruct the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) and other federal agencies concerned to act at once to prevent future midair smashups.

A 5-point program was announced at the White House by Rep. Prince H. Preston (D-Ga), chairman of the House subcommitte. It provides for these changes in flying regulations:

1. Jet trainer aircraft flown by student pilots on civilian airways will be required to operate under instrument flight rules (IFR).

2. Military jet trainers when traveling from higher to lower altitudes will be required to do so off civilian airways.

3. Itinerant (cross country, for example; jet planes will be required to file flight plans with the CAA.

Off Airways

4. Jet trainer pilots making proficiency flights will be required to do so off the civilian airways.

5. Operation flights, as distinguished from training flights, must be made on the civilian airways under IFR restrictions and CAA control.

Capital airlines reported Thursday one of its Viscount planes carrying 19 persons was narrowly missed by a B47 jet bomber over Ohio.

Capt. Jesse Bradford of Dundalk, Md., the Viscount pilot, was a surprise witness before a Senate Aviation subcommittee investigating midair collisions.

Fire Kills 13 Youths

Williams Lake, B. C. (AP) — Thirteen children were burned to death Thursday night when fire engulfed the hospital and school at the Anaham Indian reserve 60 miles west of here in British Columbia's rugged and remote Cariboo country.

Eleven of the victims were babies, according to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. One of the children was 8 years old, the others were all under 5. All 13 were in the hospital.

The RCMP indicated that a number of injured were being flown to Williams Lake for treatment.

Alert Store Clerks Aid In Nabbing Bad Check Artists

Detectives with the help of alert store clerks Thursday night solved a long series of bad check cases in Lincoln and at least 3 other states.

Over the past several months Lincoln business houses lost more than $1,200 to a couple who admitted issuing the bogus checks.

A man, 28, and his wife, 26, were recognized from a picture, circulated by police, which had been taken by an alert employe in the Miller and Paine camera department who became suspicious when the woman involved passed a check at the store some months ago.

While he was waiting for the check to be approved by store officials, he snapped a picture of the woman with a camera that develops and prints the photograph in one operation.

When the check turned out to be worthless, he turned the picture over to police. Finally 2 employes at Gold and Co. Thursday night recognized a check passer as the wanted woman and called police.

Detectives Louis Greiner and Al Delaney spotted the pair less than a block from the store.

At headquarters the couple admitted passing bad checks in Colorado, Arizona and California.

By Saturday afternoon the thunderstorms are forecast for most of the state along with warmer temperatures.

Warmer temperatures are expected in the north Friday with slightly cooler readings in the south. The mercury is expected to climb Friday night and in the east portion of the state Saturday.

Highs Friday will be comparable to Thursday's high of 75, which was reported at Lincoln, Omaha and Imperial. Chadron reported the state's low of 49. Lincoln's low was 65.

Murders Cast Shadow At Bennet Graduation

. . . Slain Schoolmates Honored In Yearbook

Bennet, Neb. — An occasion for congratulations was also an occasion for solemnity in Bennet, Nebraska, Thursday evening.

As jurors in Lincoln deliberated the fate of the self-confessed murderer of Bennet high school student Robert Jensen, 13 of Jensen's former schoolmates solemnly received their high school diplomas.

Robert Jensen, 17, and his high school girl friend Carol King were two of 11 persons slain during the Charles Starkweather rampage in January.

An ironic twist was added to the evening's ceremonies by the senior class motto: "Earth Our Challenge, Heaven Our Goal."

Earlier this week, it was announced the high school yearbook would be dedicated to the two slain Bennet youths. The yearbook termed the Jensen boy, "A gentleman, good, kind and fun-loving. A friend we shall be honored to remember and look forward to meeting in God's great tomorrow."

Of Carol King, the book said, "She was reserved and talented—loved by all. A gem that shines as eternal as the stars in God's heaven. Her friendship will live on like the sun's eternal rays."

High school superintendent M. W. Valentine noted the students have shied away from talking of their 2 former schoolmates. "They're quiet," he said. "There's nothing they can say."

But as parents filed out of the high school building several turned to ask, "Is the jury back yet?"

JURORS OUT NEARLY 3 HOURS

aginary trip to the death house.

"I will take you to the death house at the State Penitentiary," he said. "I will show you this boy with his pants slit up the legs and the hair shaved from his head, with his arms bare. I will set him in the (electric) chair with the electrodes pressed against his brain and the straps to hold down his legs and arms.

"And when the switch is pulled you will see the electricity and smoke rise from his head and his hair stand on end and his body tense and then fall forward and you will smell the smell of burning human flesh. That is your responsibility not mine. There is a commandment which says 'Thou Shalt not kill,' and it applies to you just as it did to Charles Starkweather," Gaughan concluded.

(Starkweather later asked Gaughan, "What are you trying to do, scare me?" referring to the description of the electrocution.)

If Starkweather is found insane, Gaughan said, "I assure you even an act of Congress would not be able to take Charles Starkweather out" of the Lincoln State Hospital.

Both defense attorneys had tears in their eyes and their voices trembled at times during their arguments.

But Scheele accused Gaughan and Matschullat of doing everything they could in their closing arguments to distract the jury from the evidence in the case. "Don't be misled by an old trick like that," he said.

'Clever Appeal'

Scheele termed Gaughan's argument "one of the most clever appeals I've ever heard delivered in a courtroom in my experience." But he charged both Gaughan and Matschullat tried to build the jury up to such an emotional pitch in their arguments that it (the jury) would "want to take the easy way out" of their responsibility as decent citizens.

Judge Harry A. Spencer gave the 8 women and 4 men jurors 27 instructions on the legal points in the case, in which Starkweather was charged with both first-degree murder and murder while in the perpetration of a robbery in the Jan. 27 shooting of 17-year-old Robert Jensen of Bennet. (Both offenses carry the death penalty if the jury so orders.)

Starkweather allegedly robbed Jensen of about $4 and then had him drive to a storm cellar 1¼ miles east of Bennet, where he pumped 6 .22 caliber bullets into his head during a January crime spree which claimed 9 lives in Nebraska and 1 in Wyoming.

Shooting Admitted

Starkweather's attorneys had admitted he shot Jensen but claimed he was legally insane when he did so.

The trial began May 5, and it took 4 days to select the jury. Many prospective jurors were excused because they had already formed the opinion that Starkweather was guilty.

Scheele called 30 witnesses to the stand for the prosecution and the defense used 28. Chief witnesses for each side were doctors who testified as to Starkweather's alleged insanity.

Psychiatrists Testify

Testifying for the defense were Dr. Nathan Greenbaum and Dr. John O'Hearne, both of Kansas City, Mo., and Dr. John F. Steinman of Lincoln. Dr. Greenbaum is a psychologist and the other 2 psychiatrists.

They all claimed their examinations showed that Starkweather suffers from a diseased and defective mind, and could not have known right from wrong (the test for legal insanity) when he fatally shot Jensen.

Dr. Robert J. Stein, Dr. Edwin Coats and Charles Munson testified for the prosecution that Starkweather suffers only from a "personality disorder," and is not sufficiently mentally disturbed to warrant commitment to a mental hospital. Munson is a psychologist, the other 2 are psychiatrists. All 3 are on the staff of the Lincoln State Hospital.

Relaxed In Courtroom

Starkweather was closely guarded throughout his trial. Sheriff Merle Karnopp and his chief deputy, Les Hasson, transported the defendant to and from the State Penitentiary—where he has been held for safekeeping—and also sat at his side in the courtroom. But he gave them no cause for alarm, and appeared most of the time to be the most relaxed person in the courtroom.

Serving on the jury which heard the case were:

Six recent high school graduates of Nebraska's Training School for Girls at Geneva, and the Boys Training School at Kearney will enroll in colleges this fall, the Board of Control reported Thursday.

Lost Lad's Parents Were Wanted By Hall Authorities

A Grand Island couple Thursday night was identified as the parents of a 3-year-old boy found wandering alone on Lincoln streets Wednesday night.

Police said the man and woman were wanted by Hall County authorities on a felony charge. Both had been jailed on a drunk charge Thursday at police headquarters when they were connected with the boy and the Hall County warrant, police said.

The couple and the boy were turned over to the Hall County sheriff Thursday evening.

Condemned

London (AP) — Moscow Radio broadcast a condemnation of the Moslem faith. The attack described it as "a remnant of the past which the Soviet people have left far behind." It interferes with work, the broadcaster said.

TEACHERS' PAY UNDETERMINED BY EDUCATION

Does the amount of education earned by Nebraska rural school teachers materially affect pay scales? According to the Nebraska State Education Assn., it apparently has little bearing on salaries paid to rural teachers.

Many rural teachers in the state who have college training or previous experience receive the same pay as do teachers lacking these qualifications, according to a recent NSEA report,

The NSEA said there is a negligible relationship between the amount of experience and the salary of the rural teacher. There is a somewhat higher degree of relationship between college education and salary, but it is not significant.

Dr. Archer L. Burnham, NSEA research director, said, "This means that many teachers with minimum educational qualifications will likely be paid as high salaries as teachers with higher qualifications and with experience."

Arguments Bring Thoughtful Looks

By Nancy Benjamin

After hearing 4 impressive arguments on what the fate of 19-year-old Charles Starkweather should be an audience and jury filed out of the Lancaster District Courtroom with thoughtful looks on their faces.

The jurors were sworn not to speak about their opinions, but spectators showed an amazing variety of reactions which included all possible verdicts except "manslaughter."

The audience, many of whom have been in regular attendance over the 3-week period, showed the effects of the brilliant work of both defense and prosecution attorneys.

The final statements Thursday were termed the highlight of the trial by most of the spectators. Here are some of the reasons why:

In presentation lasting less than his alloted 75 minutes, Defense Atty. T. Clement Gaughah used the personal approach, seemingly speaking individually to each juror.

'Little Other'

"There is little other testimony to talk about except the psychiatrists testimony," he stated.

"If I had been able to get competent local men, I would have done so," Gaughan explained, "but I had to go to Omaha, then Topeka, Kan., then to Des Moines and finally back to Kansas City" because the men he asked "were to afraid of that society that spawned Charles Starkweather."

He also explained to the jurors that he chose the insanity plea "because I was flagged with that same thing that must have struck all of you . . . that this is not the act of a sane mind."

"What if the prosecution had let Charles Starkweather go to the State Hospital during the first 4 or 5 days after his capture" to determine if he was insane, the defense lawyer asked? "They were afraid to do it, and never did it to this time!"

Gaughan also repeated several times that "this boy is the product of our society" and "our society that spawned this individual is looking for a scapegoat."

Pointing to Caril Fugate's apparent part in the crime spree, Gaughan stated, "she should get the same punishment as this lad (Starkweather) and I can tell you right now she is never going to get the death penalty."

'Life Parallels'

'In many ways I think I know this lad as well as anyone alive does," Gaughan said in a quavering voice. "His life, my life are almost parallels until our 19th birthdays."

Gaughan related incidents of this "parallel life" then broke into tears, spread his arms out to the jury and said, "If I stand here and shed tears unashamedly for the society that spawned these things, I am feeling sorry for the society, not myself . . . not this lad.

"I am just as guilty as you and he. I am a member of that society that did not want to be burdened with Charles Starkweather," he continued.

"I am asking you for the life of Charles Starkweather."

Scheele Fahrnbruch Gaughan Matschullat

Quiet But Dramatic

In the final state speech, Co. Atty Elmer Scheele, led up quietly but dramatically to his plea to the jury to recommend a death sentence for Charles Starkweather.

"I know this will not be easy, I know," he said softly, "It is the first time I have ever had to ask it."

Calling the death penalty "a duty to society" he pointed to the testimony of 3 state's witnesses that they would have to release the youth after he was cured, Scheele repeated: "This leaves me with only the choice, to ask you to consider the death penalty as one choice of verdict."

Scheele called the defense "moving" but added "it is unfair and ridiculous to attempt to place the blame on society and ask you to do nothing as far as Charles Starkweather, because the blame is on society."

He urged the jurors: "Let us get back to earth, get our feet on the ground. . . if justice is to be accomplished and society is to be given the protection it deserves."

'Common Appeal'

He called the "emotional appeal" . . . "common when you have a weak case, or no case at all. Then you must distract the jury's attention from the facts."

"I've got to rely entirely on you 12 ladies and gentlemen to judge this case on the facts in evidence."

Scheele called the defense case a "hoax" and a "deliberate attempt to place the smokescreen of emotion over the facts.

"They are grasping at the straw of insanity," he said.

Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrnbruch contended in his morning statement that "the state has proved beyond a reasonable doubt that this man is sane, and it is conceded that he killed."

He called the sanity of Starkweather proved "virtually, if not to a mathematical certainty."

'Go All The Way'

"This jury has to go all the way to protect this community—our families, yours and mine—from the defendent," he urged.

Fahrnbruch also stressed that:

"It was the defense that introduced the portions of his confessions not dealing with the Jensen killing. They say that the conflicts show he could not operate under stress.

"Yet, he made 6 decisions when he shot Robert Jensen), a decision every time he pulled the trigger.

"Every possible fact relative to the Jensen case that is capable of cooperation from physical facts backs up Starkweather's statements. Yet the defense does not want you to believe him.

"You, the jury, must decide what protection you are going to give this community.

"Do you want (evidence of) malice? Remember the picture of Jensen's head (with 6 bullet holes marked.)

"Do you want (evidence of) intent? What about the shotgun sawed off because it would spread more . . . and the .22 bullets, hollow-nosed so they would spread more?

"Self-defense? It would be more accurate to term it self preservation to avoid detection and apprehension.

An impassioned request "not to take one life for another" was the core of Defense Atty. William Matschullat's morning statement.

"If one or two of you jurors believe this lad's life should be saved, fight forever!" Matschullat pleaded. "Keep this jury out-"

Matschullat quoting poetry, Winston Churchill, and the Bible, caused murmurs among the audience when he referred to "Jesus Christ at Cavalry" (Calvary).

Matschullat's summation for the defense also left these statements in the jurors minds:

"If we here make a mistake, it will be written in classrooms and discussed in classrooms for generations to come.

"Capital punishment isn't civilized . . ."

"If that boy was my boy, I'd be on my knees in this courtroom all the time, pleading fir his life." (Referring to Guy Starkweather's infrequent attendance at his son's trial. Guy Starkweather and Mrs. Starkweather have been alternating their appearances in court so that one of them might stay home with 8-year-old Greg who has the mumps.)

'Can't Help It'

"The prosecution's doctors —paid by the state — are old pros at this, working for the state, and well, the money comes around. They don't mean it, they can't help it.

"He who sets that boy in that (electric) chair will have a terrific responsibility . . . there will be days and months in the future when you will wonder about it.

"This could happen to your son or daughter. We are not here so much to save Charlie but to see that other's boys and girls will have a chance for a fair trial, representation.

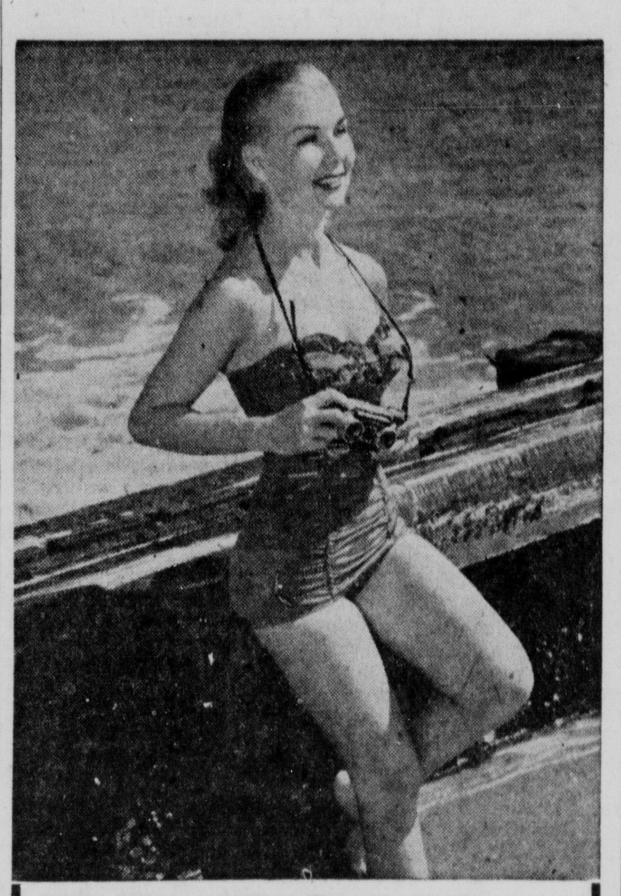

"Think of the men we rehabilitate after a war . . . If you can do it for millions, you can do it for one other — a brethren of your own community.

'Ridiculous'

"The state's case has made Charlie out as eligible to be an officer in the U.S. Army. That's ridiculous!," Matschullat said referring to state's evidence that he was "a fine lad", "cheerful" "co-operative" "with an I.Q. of 110, a little better than the average boy —yours and mine!" ..

"The question in this case is 'Why did all these things happen?' ", he said outlining the testimony of defense witnesses to Charles' legal insanity, and called the prosecution's case "a pitiful attempt to prove him sane."

"Charlie's explanation is self-defense. That would be ridiculous! But that's what Charlie wanted. On only two things he hasn't wavered," Matschullat said, referring to "this confused mass of statements of conflicting nature, a product of a confused, demented mind" which he characterized as "wavering like a boiling pot of fudge." The 2 things on which the 19-year-old defendant has remained firm are "that he's not insane" and that "he killed in self-defense," the defense attorney said.

Down To The Little Man

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Vice President Richard Nixon has sounded a warning that this nation must concentrate more on developing friendships abroad among the citizens rather than among the high government officials. Nixon was directing his remarks particularly to the diplomatic corps.

In defense of his own mingling in South America with students and others, Nixon advised that our diplomats follow his example and mingle more with students, labor leaders and "opinion makers," whom he described as "the wave of the future." Speaking of the white tie and cocktail circuit, Nixon said that "if we continue to concentrate on that area, we can figure we will lose the battle."

A Shift Of Values

There are a great many people who will agree wholeheartedly with the vice president's words. Many of these people might also add that his suggested approach need not be confined to the diplomatic corps. A great deal of the criticism of American foreign policy has been that it caters too much to the kings, dictators or rulers of other lands.

Such a policy has left the people of these foreign lands unaware of American goals and ideals, and frequently, has done nothing to improve the people's way of life. Too much of American foreign aid has gone into furthering the aims and personal ambitions of ruling individuals.

It is not safe nor justifiable for the U.S. to concentrate on a few hand-picked friendships among a ruling group and ignore the welfare and power of the people of a land. Too often, the one or two friends this nation has cultivated have been ousted and left us stranded.

In other cases, most notable of which is Egypt and President Nasser, our so-called friends have turned against us. In such cases, there is no public opinion to stem or curb such actions on the part of officials. Funds in the form of aid have been siphoned off for personal and political gain and used for projects for which the general public reaped little direct harvest.

It is believed that Nixon probably learned a great deal on his trip to Latin America. He evidently found out the hard way that our present foreign policy has met with little success. His only mistake in the affair would be to assume that it is a situation which can be cured on the diplomatic level only.

What he talks about doing on the diplomatic level is advantageous but it has frequently been done in other ways. A great many American individuals have made good impressions and many friends in foreign lands. This is true of statesmen, industrialists, visitors, humanitarians, etc.

But the thing that always comes up to detract from the good will created by individual Americans is the government of the United States. It has been a government in recent years that has changed policies too often, has not practiced complete integrity and has attempted to serve, at times, too many masters. The things of which Nixon speaks will have to be incorporated into the structure of our official foreign policy if they are to be effective.

Undoing Good Created

A diplomat, a visiting dignitary and others from this country will make little permanent headway if our official policy and actions do not complement the work these individuals can do. We cannot officially cut off trade with South America and then expect to win their loyalty by giving them a friendly pat on the back.

"Ha! An Un-American Tendency Toward Free Speech!"

Midstates' Power Pool

It is an ambitious and very worthwhile project embarked upon in the power field by seven midwestern states in the Missouri River basin. The states are seeking to work out plans for a pooling of power supplies for the greater benefit of all participants.

Many people fail to understand some of the costly aspects of both an adequate power and water supply. Both of these essential utilities are seriously handicapped by the existence of peak loads. They must provide for the time of greatest demand upon their facilities.

But when they make such provisions, they do so with the knowledge that a peak load is a very fleeting thing. The peak demand period is hit only a small percentage of the time. For the remainder of the time, demand is below the peak and part of the costly equipment, manpower and over-all investment lies idle during this time.

Thus, the more that can be done to equalize the demand over a period of time, the more efficient will the power operations of the state be and the more advantageous will be the rate to electric customers. A pooling of the resources of several states would permit an equalizing of loads by adapting the demands of the entire area to the capacity of the entire area. Thus, a slack demand period in one area could provide power to meet a peak demand at the same time in another area.

The only word of caution that might be sounded is by way of a reminder that Nebraska is a public power state — the only all-public-power state in the nation. It is a serious obligation and responsibility of our state power leaders to preserve this enviable position for Nebraska. It is not to be weakened or undermined through contractual relations with private power interests in other areas. Co-operation, yes but not subjugation.

Leadership in Short Supply

The news commentators have noted that the governors of the nation are returning home from their golden anniversary conference at Miami Beach, certain of only one thing. There was not a first rate presidential prospect in the bunch, at least none who could make use of the event to prove himself.

This could be, and probably is, disconcerting to any number of governors, most of whom entertain abiding personal hopes. But it is even more disappointing to the American people who, in the course of the next two years, must skirmish up a global sized administration, or else.

The past six years have not been illustrious in terms of effective and triumphant leadership. Indeed, the lame showing of the Republican party has raised a question whether it is any longer oriented enough to present day essentials to be useful. It has squandered the scientific and nuclear lead which Russia seemingly now has well in hand. It has followed a senseless policy of "no new conservation starts" at a very time when resources development is conceivably vital to national survival. It has maintained the appearance of peace by retreating from the trenches. It has estranged most of the nations whose growing friendship is most sorely needed. Its fiscal and economic policies are leaky, and, contrary to expressed intentions to reverse the spending of former years, it has outspent all comers. Even its farm program after six years of querrulous attacks on a lame and outdated New Deal program has achieved but one thing—a fabulously greater cost.

But if the Republican party has returned to the stone age it is all the more incumbent on the Democratic party to step forward with a new age edition of how to run a modern nation.

The Miami Beach convention did not seem to find a Democratic figure with such a book tucked under his arm.

Step In Right Direction

Nebraska was assured that its major public power agencies would within a week now finish the difficult but important task of finding a new and better relationship.

It was said that most of the issues had been resolved and the principal remaining one called for a mutually acceptable rate for wholesale power supplied by the Nebraska Public Power System to the Consumers Public Power District. And there is nothing about that that can stand long against sound bargaining.

The anticipated agreement contemplates a merging of all major power, transmission and supply operations without merging the major agencies. The durability of such an arrangement will depend upon the prudence with which its details are fashioned, but as a principal it is a thing to which Nebraska can give hearty approval. While some may view a total merger of the agencies as desirable, there are two good reasons why that should not be. One is the invitation to monopoly. The other would be the questionable total marriage of electricity and water conservation. In Nebraska they have areas of common interest but each in its way is major and different, and both require as much individual sovereignty as is practicable in terms of maximum growth of the Nebraska economy.

The agencies, themselves, seem to have been wisely sensitive to that truth.

The Simple Approach

Moscow has announced that henceforth it will be a criminal offense when officials of its state industry fail to meet production quotas. We must hand it to the Russians. They've learned how to simplify the problems of government, to eliminate thought, study and hesitant minds—just clobber everyone if things don't work out. They'd fix our recession in a jiffy. They'd call unemployment vagrancy, punishable as a felony, and probably shoot a few corporation heads because the public failed to buy a desired number of their products.

The only trouble is, in the long run, every potential Russian success is going to make for the bottom of the heap. It's not very good down there, but it is the safest of all places to be.

Truly Missed

The nation deeply regrets the death of Ronald Coleman, so long a prominent and admirable figure of stage and screen. Coleman's public visage was one of wholesomeness and gentility an everlasting and overwhelming reminder that art of which he possessed a great deal does not require its exponent to live the life of a bum and wanton.

Latin America Ire Long In Building

(Editor's Note — Drew Pearson, who has been reporting on recent European developments, today gives his reaction to Vice President Nixon's experiences in Latin America.)

★

En Route — Traveling through Europe right now, an American gets the impression that the entire roof of American foreign policy has come tumbling down about our ears. Our staunch friend and ally of 175 years, France, is in the throes of a mortal political struggle Our vice president was almost killed by our alleged good neighboors in Latin America. And one of the friendliest pro-western nations in the Near East, Lebanon, is in danger of going over to the Nasser-Soviet bloc.

On top of all this, Russia launches a Sputnik 100 times larger than anything we have put in the air.

European friends who want to support, and still do support, the United States ask you a bit reproachfully: "How come?"

The answer is that foreign policy does not collapse suddenly; it erodes. It's like a farmer's field if he doesn't plug the gullies immediately. Or it's like a mouthful of teeth if you don't take care of the fillings. The decay spreads. Pretty soon you begin losing your teeth. That's what's happening to us in the field of foreign affairs.

Take, for instance, the shocking indignities suffered by Vice President Nixon in Latin America. Anyone who has been following Latin-American affairs—and this writer began reporting for El Mundo in Havana and La Nacion in Buenos Aires when Coolidge was in the White House—could see it coming. There was nothing sudden about it.

Latin-American editorials first chided Nixon when he barnstormed through Asia in 1953 and advocated an Asia first foreign policy for the U.S.A. Latins know, what Nixon apparently didn't know, that Asian-African tropical products compete with Latin America's tropical products. The more coffee, cocoa, tin, etc., we buy from Asia and Africa the less we buy from Latin America. And the more money we send these countries in foreign aid the more it gripes Latin Americans.

Later, when Nixon went to the new African republic of Ghana to help inaugurate its new president, there were more critical murmurs in Latin America. His trip to Ghana may have helped him with Negro voters in Harlem, but it didn't make him the ideal ambassador for a good-will trip to countries which suffer from African competition. Latin Americans read Nixon's ballyhoo about Africa; then, remembering his previous trips to Brazil and Central America, they named him "Fickle Dick."

U.S. Lags Badly In Air Control

WASHINGTON—How many members of Congress or high government officials have to be killed in air crashes like the one here this week before this country prepares for the jet age?

No one has even started to work on the problem in any significant way since 12 persons were killed Tuesday in a collision between a Capital Airlines lane and a Maryland Air National Guard jet near Brunswick, Md., about 40 miles northwest of Washington.

Yet this is a center of world air transport where the President, vice-president, secretary of state and leading members of Congress lead a continous procession of travelers literally around the globe. A rare few of them are cushioned from all the hazards of the inadequate facilities they use, but there is no lack of information regarding conditions.

Only last Sunday the Washington Evening Star disclosed that the Civil Aeronautics Board had reports of 971 aircraft near misses last year, 53 of them in the Maryland-Virginia-District area.

☆ ☆ ☆

Word of the crash reached the House as it was debating the Commerce Department appropriation bill where jurisdiction over civil aviation rests. Members quickly voted an increase of $674 million for CAB over last year, which is not even the plural of peanuts when the jet age dawns in about six months.

Debate suggested that civil and military aviation [illegible] for failing to co-ordinate their activities. This by itself would be a major and expensive task requiring a great deal more than the few telephone calls some members seemed to think would save the day.

The fact that hearings are now taking place on control of outer space takes on a grim irony to those who have long complained of the lack of vision regarding present air travel problems and prospects.

☆ ☆ ☆

Some localities and states have done better than others in this field; Washington is, of course, uniquely at the mercy of the White House and Congress. In both those areas the old hot war psychology seems to prevail: It can't happen to me. Yet here are the people whose government expense-account travel puts them in the forefront of the particular peril dramatized by Tuesday's disaster.

Plenty of them are capable of understanding what can and should be done in this, as in related fields like land and water use by the ever-growin population of the United States. Yet some curious paralysis seems to grip them at just the point when they should burst with sense of urgency.

Extremely conservative opinion is on the soundest moral ground actually; it thinks in terms of budget deficits and the national debt and frankly says so. It is content not to plan and believes that more self-reliance among individuals will do the the job. It is liberal opinion today which lacks creative ideas, or at least the courage to express them, much less fight for them.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Oldest Car Is Still The Professor's

By MONA B. PARKER

C. D. Huston of Ragan had grown a fair-sized beard, looking to the Holdrege Jubilee celebration, and walked into the family flock of baby chicks the other day for the first time. The tiny fowls, terrified, ran for the farthest corner where they piled up in fright. One chick was smothered, and the others lost at least a week's growth . . .

And it isn't just chicken children who are befuddled by the face fuzz in and around Holdrege. Some of the little people are likewise confused by the adornments. One tad, visiting in the home of relatives, demanded to know of his mother: "Why did Aunt Myrtle get rid of Uncle Dar and get this guy?"

☆ ☆ ☆

Mary Cash of the Bayard Transcript had a letter from a man who wanted to know why women perpetually move the furniture around. He had come home late one night, had sat down in his favorite chair—no chair—reached for a table and a lamp—and smacked into a wall . . .

The columnist relayed the information that moving the furniture about gives a woman the same kind of morale boost as buying a new hat or taking a trip. So, she advises, if the little woman has the strength, let her do it . . . "It's cheaper than a new hat or a trip to a distant place."

☆ ☆ ☆

The Sherman County Times had a good chuckle through its editorial column about an item of complaint that newly installed parking meters are such a burden to the student who has to hurry from class with his nickles and "how can he give his full attention to his class if he is worrying about his car?"

When he was down at school, recalled Editor Bass, you could have turned a small toddler into the driveway around the college and he would have been as safe as in his play pen. The only vehicle visible "belonged to some elite who was in school only because the old man could afford to get him away from home and out of the way—or a professor who had a private income."

Times and scenes change. The car equals in importance the fees and textbooks. But one thing remains the same, according to Mr. Bass.

"The oldest vehicle in the parking lot is still the instructor's."

☆ ☆ ☆

Some things are largely a state of mind or a matter of perspective, as it were. A guest writer for the editor's personal column in the Polk Progress, Editor Norris Alfred's brother Orrin took note that land levelling is now quite The Thing around Polk County and adjacent regions. It can be done both cheaply and enjoyably, he advises, by merely taking a trip and visiting San Francisco for a few weeks—long enough, at any rate, to get accustomed to the city's fabled hills . . .

"When you return to Polk County," he says, "Your land will look like a billiard table."

Perhaps with a little more wisdom in higher places, more of our pointless strife and controversy could be resolved as sensibly and as satisfactorily to all parties concerned as that handled so expertly by two Kearney four-year-olds.

The point in question was who should lead the way while the pair rode their tricycles down the sidewalk. Both wanted to be in the lead. Finally one offered the perfect solution, to which the other readily agreed—one rider would be the front leader, and the other would be the back leader.

Railroad Agent George Finley was a bit unnerved when in the shuffling of packages in the Albion station, one parcel fell to the floor and emitted the unmistakable sound of a rattlesnake in high gear. The box was, indeed, labeled "Snakes." The reptiles were guests of an unwilling host at the depot for two weeks before instructions were received for their point of dispatch. The surmise was that they were to be used in laboratory experiments.

Combined Tax

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Why not a combined city-county wheel tax? We have city-county combinations for almost everything else, so why not throw in the wheel tax for good measure? If the city car owners need a wheel tax, then the county car owners, who also use the city streets, need it just as badly.

The county commissioners could pass a resolution in the same manner that the City Council passed their ordinance for levying a wheel tax on all motor vehicles in Lancaster County. And there you have it—so simple—so painless—except the actual paying of the tax.

Of course, the local powers that be would give nobody, not even the registered Republicans, a chance to vote yes or no. All they want is the dough. Halleluiah! Are we ever having fun! Till now, I never realized that chuck holes could be the source of so much free entertainment. It surely surpasses the celebrated quail case.

For Better Schools

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Mr. Matthews of Hastings has suggested that if Nebraska has a two-cent sales tax, the capitol will have to close its doors to become a "relic of bygone days." "Or," he says, "must we have a five-cent retail sales tax?" Is there no alternative? I think there is.

A two-cent retail sales tax will just replace the general fund property tax of about $20 million with which the state is now operated. Does this suggest that the capitol will have to close? No state in the nation has as high a sales tax as five cents. Why should Nebraska have to have such a tax? Sure, Kansas just raised its sales tax, but Kansas supports its schools for almost 24 per cent of their budget. Nebraska supports its schools for only 5½ per cent.

If we Nebraskans want better schools for our children, we are going to have to broaden our tax base to support such schools. The Nebraska Tax Equity Council is trying to broaden the tax base now so that we can be better educated. Let's all sign their petition and let democracy work—let the people vote.

Checking Facts

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Every now and then an open letter appears, showing that there are people who strain the gnats and swallow camels. In a democracy, we try to think for ourselves and that's how it should be, but we should find out facts before we pass judgment, and to find out facts we need to learn both sides of the question.

We read of an uprising in some country. Is it caused by the Red element who are out to overthrow all forms of government except their own? Or could it be that the unrest is caused by the ambassador we sent them who is the dictator type and does not see eye with them?

Then we read of those who put all dictators in the same class—perhaps they are still smarting because Franco gave the Reds a sound whipping over 20 years ago, in spite of the fact that some of our so-called patriotic Americans went over to the Reds.

Well, if Franco is a bloody ruler like Hitler and Stalin and his successor, then even one of our presidents who was in office when this country of ours went to war could also be called a bloody ruler.

And for the record, I can say that the financial help the U.S. has given South America and Spain recently is peanuts compared to the millions given to the butchers of the Kremlin.

Two Sides

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It makes me laugh a little to see the county commissioners comment on the loss of tax revenue for the county with the transfer of the Elgin plant to ownership by the University of Nebraska. The commissioners said that the county will lose $35,000 in taxes when the plant is taken over by the tax-exempt university.

At the same time, the commissioners were talking about a bill passed in the last session of the Legislature which permits the county to set aside large tracts of land for industrial purposes. Either this or a related bill is the one which also makes this "set aside" land tax-exempt for all time.

This is not tax exemption, either, for a public institution but tax exemption for private interests. Such land set aside by the county can never be annexed to the city without the landowner's permission. Thus, the land could become an integral part of the city but still never have any taxes levied against it.

The county should have thought more about the loss of tax revenue in the last session of the Legislature and opposed this exemption privilege for private interests.

THE FIRST BITE

For fishing, I'll say, if you like it at all,
There's no better fun from the springtime to fall.
And if in the winter, away from the snow,
To fish in the tropics you're able to go,
It's fun to catch groupers and bone fish and whales
And listen to tellers of marvelous tales.

9 Dead And Scores Injured In Panama Riots

Panama (AP)—Panama troops battled destructive rioters and snipers Thursday and bottled up student demonstrators here and in Colon.

Government spokesmen said order was being restored after hours of fighting in the capital of this republic astride the U.S.-run canal zone.

Nine persons were killed and at least 61 injured in hours of fighting here between National Guardsmen and rioters who went on a rampage of destruction.

The government claimed snipers killed the victims, including men women and youths.

Several National Guardsmen were among the wounded.

There were no reports of casulaties at Colon, second largest city in the country, at the Caribbean entrance to the canal.

Other sections of the country were reported quiet.

The riots came in the midst of the threat of a general strike. The government met that threat and the accompanying riots with declaration of a state of siege — modified martial law.

Amid indications the government was ready to impose press and radio censorship, there were reoports the afternoon opposition newspaper Nacion was forced to close and its editor, Manuel Maria Valdes, was jailed.

Firing was heaviest here in the Calidonia tenement section and around the National Institute, headquarters of the student movement.

National Guard headquarters said National University students arranged for a truce to evacuate students massed in the National Institute before the troops moved in to clear out snipers.

At Colon students concentrated in a high school building and troops gave them an ultamatum to move out in groups of 3 to surrender.

The strike was called after several days of student demonstrations demanding the ouster of Education Minister Victor Juliao for alleged failure to correct bad school conditions.

5 Deaf School Graduates Plan College Careers

Five graduating students of the Nebraska School for the Deaf are planning to go on to school, Mrs. Catherine Martin, State Board of Control chairman, said.

Mrs. Martin reported that of the 14 deaf students graduating, (for whom commencement exercises will be held Friday) 3 will study at the only college for the deaf in the nation, Gallaudet College, Washington, D.C.; one will go to business college and one has taken college entrance examinations, but has not decided where he will continue his education.

Of the others, one will go to commercial art school, 2 into photographic training, one into printing school, one to barber training, and 4 will go into farming.

Mrs. Martin also said commencement exercises at the State School for the Blind in Nebraska City, May 30, will see 5 graduating seniors.

Of the 5, 2 will enroll at the University of Nebraska, she said.

Ouster Demanded

We flew down to the old Japanese capital of Kyoto. It takes an hour and a half on Japan Air Lines DC-4, a very pleasant flight.

In Kyoto, they made a good many scenes of "S ayonara." Though the company did not get all the co-operation they would have liked. Japan did not care too much for the Michener book or the picture. Not officially. They liked it at the box office, though.

☆ ☆ ☆

The old Japanese town was spared by American bombers. It has about a million people and three whooping geisha districts. This is the traditional home of the honorable geisha.

Three geisha troupes are playing the local theaters at this time.

It is one of the great towns for Japanese gentlemen on the loose. On the expense account.

"I think I had best run over and see how the factory is doing," says the Japanese honorable gentleman to his honorable wife. "Though as you know the factory is in a terrible factory town. And I hate every minute I am away."

He then picks up a ticket and flies off to the Kyoto tea houses.

☆ ☆ ☆

One of the most interesting shops in Tokyo is in Tokyo Central Railroad Station. It specializes in gifts from various towns in Japan.

When the Japanese honorable gentleman comes back from Kyoto, he rushes to this shop.

He tells them the name of the town he was supposed to be in.

The shopkeeper reaches on the shelf and takes down a gift that is typical of this town. He gets out wrapping paper of an actual shop in that town. He sets back the date on a little date stamp.

He wraps the package in the special paper. And he dates it back a couple of days. The Japanese honorable gent takes it home to his honorable wife.

"A little present I picked up while visiting the factory town," he says.

The honorable wife is overcome to have such an honorable husband.

We stay at the Doi Hotel in Kyoto. It is so private that you must be introduced to get a room. It is the most elegant hotel I have seen in Japan. But like all Japanese hotels, the beds are so short your feet hang over the end.

It does not matter much since the bed is on the floor anyway.

The problem is keeping your feet and shoulders covered at the same time by the quilt.

☆ ☆ ☆

A curious thing about Japanese hotels is that you cannot ask the price of a room. It is very bad manners.

You just take the room. When you leave they hand you the bill. Along with a little present-o. The bill is always correct. And rooms will run about $10 to $15 including breakfast, dinner and a 10 per cent service charge.

Alongside the door you will see a plant with eight leaves and a thick stalk. It is the first thing planted. It keeps away thieves.

☆ ☆ ☆

You do not carry any packages into your hotel. The maid comes to meet you at the gate and carries them for you. She sits with you and serves you while you eat.

She takes you down to the gate each time you go out.

You have to be back by 12 midnight. Or turn into a pumpkin. There is no night help. Everybody goes to bed at 12 and they lock the gates. If you want to whoop it up into the small hours, you are supposed to do it in your room.

5 Varsity Glee Club Members Awarded Keys

Five Glee Club keys were awarded Thursday to outstanding member of the 55-member University of Nebraska Varsity Glee Club.

George S. Round, director of public relations, was also named an honorary member of the organization.

The honored members were selected by a vote of the Glee Club and the Keys were given on the basis of dependability, performance, and interest in the group.

Recipients of the keys, presented by Prof. Dale Ganz, director, were:

Darrell Eberspacher of Seward, 2nd tenor in the group's quartet.
Mack Lundstrom of Holdrege, student director.
James Pinkerton of Lincoln, a tenor soloist.
Wayne Robertson of Norfolk, 1st tenor in the quartet.
Stanley Widman of Omaha, tenor soloist.

SCHOOL DRIVER'S PERMIT USE ONLY FOR SCHOOL FUNCTIONS

The privilege of a school permit driver's license extends only to attendance of school functions when attendance is required in some capacity other than as a spectator, the attorney general has held.

The opinion requested by Dale A. Rogers, state motor vehicles director, further said the school permit is only valid for attendance of school functions held in the town where the permit holder's "own school building is located."

The route taken to school by the holder of such a permit must be restricted to the nearest route between his residence and the school building, the opinion concluded.

Clarence S. Beck, attorney general, and Cecil S. Brubaker, assistant attorney general, signed the opinion.

Train Order Appeal Asked Dismissed

The appeal of the Chicago and North Western Railroad to the State Supreme Court from a Railway Commission order should be dismissed pending final decision on the case by the commission, according to a brief filed with the high court.

The brief, filed by the Save the Trains Assn., said the only question before the commission in the matter was: does the present and future convenience and necessity require continuance of passenger trains 13 and 14 between Omaha and Chadron.

The brief said the commission has not answered this question.

The railroad applied for commission authority to discontinue the 2 trains.

The commission granted the application, but later reversed itself, requesting the railroad to furnish more financial information before a final decision was made.

The brief further contended the commission order that the railroad furnish additional financial data is solely within the jurisdiction of the commission and not reviewable by the Supreme Court.

Off-Campus Class Legality Is Studied

The legality of the University of Nebraska conducting off campus classes without approval of the Legislature is being given further study by the attorney general's office, according to an office spokesman.

Gerald Vitamvas, assistant attorney general, said he is studying the question for which University Chancellor Clifford Hardin sought clarification.

Vitamvas recently wrote an opinion which held that the University's Board of Regents must win Legislative approval before it can agree to begin an extension center in North Platte.

The proposed North Platte center envisions instruction in 4 beginning college courses. The North Platte Board of Education was to have furnished the building.

Demo Blasts Unprecedented GOP Pressure On Foreign Aid Program

Washington (AP) — A blast against what he called unprecedented administration pressure behind President Eisenhoer's foreign aid program was issued by Rep. Otto Passman (D-La).

Passman, chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee, called off further hearings on Eisenhower's $3,942,092,500 foreign aid money bill "until such time as the executive branch and its propaganda agents have lessened their pressures on Congress."

Passman's subcommittee has held a month of hearings on an appropriation bill to finance the foreign aid program.

The House already has cut 339 million dollars out of an advance measure authorizing the various projects, but the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has been restoring the House cuts.

Tentative OK

The Senate group gave tentative approval to a program totaling 6 million dollars more than Eisenhower requested. Members said the figure may be revised downward.

Passman said a request of such magnitude as the foreign aid bill which involves billions of dollars "deserves the most careful scrutiny and examination."

Such an approach cannot be made "in an intelligent manner when the members are laboring under pressure of unprecendeted proportions," he said.

"Our hearings," Passman said, "will not be resumed until there is some indication that the pressure will subside and members of Congress charged with the responsibility of recommending funds can operate in an air of freedom and independence in their deliberations."

In the past years Passman's subcommittee has cut administration requests sharply.

Sen. Knowland Believes Nixon Has Locked Up '60 Nomination

Washington (INS) — Sentate Republican leader William F. Knowland made it clear that he believes Vice President Richard M. Nixon has already locked up the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Knowland told newsmen that Nixon is "the only major candidate for President on the Republican ticket."

Knowland is retiring from the Senate at the end of the present session of Congress to run for governor of California. He has been accused by the present governor, Goodwin J. Knight, of attempting to "use the statehouse as a steppingstone to the White House."

Nixon-for-President sentiment has spurted dramatically since the Vice President and Mrs. Nixon returned last week from their riot-plagued trip to South America, where they were endangered by Communist-led mobs.

No Link

Knowland declared, however, that he saw no link between Nixon's status as a presidential candidate and the mob actions in Peru 2 weeks ago and in Venezuela last week.

The senator said: "Entirely aside from last week's activities, he is the leading contender—the only major candidate for President on the Republican ticket.

"But I don't tie in the events of last week with the presidency and 1960 as some columnists do."

He referred to the published reports that Nixon's courageous recation to the South American indignities had created a nationwide groundswell of support for the vice president's White House hopes.

Knowland, who has at times been at odds with Nixon in the struggle for dominant influence over the GOP in California, said that the Vice President and Mrs. Nixon "handled themselves admirably" in South America and displayed "courage, intelligence and dignity."

Mrs. Gesch Named WRC President

MRS. MARY GESCH

Mrs. Mary Gesch of Blair was elected state president of the Women's Relief Corps Thursday.

The election highlighted final day activities of the organization's 2-day convention here.

Others elected to one-year terms were: Mrs. Dorothy Glantz, Hastings, senior vice president; Mrs. June Noble, Omaha, junior vice president; Mrs. Bessie Brey, Omaha, treasurer, and Mrs. Hazel B. Johnson, Lincoln, chaplain.

Other Thursday events included a past presidents breakfast and a business session.

The organization also elected members to the executive board. They are: Mrs. Marie Schwing, Fremont, chairman; Mrs. Vera Fulton, Lincoln; Mrs. Grace Baron, Blair; Mrs. Lora Ruff, Fremont, and Mrs. Vivian Miller, Omaha. Mrs. Lois Kilgore of Lincoln was elected to the Legislative Committee.

LAFB Weather Group Named Top SAC Unit

Weather Detachment 21 of the 5th Weather Group at Lincoln Air Force Base has been selcted as the top observer unit in the Strategic Air Command for the month of March, SAC officials announced.

The unit was awarded the same honor in January when it was rated as best in SAC for observance of weather in the interst of flying safety.

Brooks Spent Total Of $509

Ralph G. Brooks of McCook, Democratic nominee for governor, reported campaign expenditures of $509 in the May primary in his expense statement filed Thusday with the Secretary of State's office.

Richard C. Hill of Lincoln, unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination as State Trasurer, reported xpenditures of $546.

Other campaign expenses reported included:

Legislature

Tom Dooley of Papillion, for the 3rd Dist., $55; W. H. Hasebroock of West Point, 12th Dist., $183; David Tews of Norfolk, 15th Dist., $267; Stanley L. Portsche of Lincoln, 19th Dist., $145; Leo N. GET ON THE VODKA WAGON—WITH SMIRNOFF

There's no vodka like Smirnoff! The Vodka of Vodkas is smooth and flawless. It blends with any mixer, fruit juice or soft drink . . . loses itself completely in just about anything that pours! That's why Smirnoff lets you vary your drinks—without mixing your liquors. From cocktail to nightcap, you can stay with Smirnoff all evening long. For instance:

VODKA MARTINI. Smirnoff makes the world's smoothest, driest Dry Martini. Just use it instead of gin—but follow your usual martini proportions.

BLOODY MARY. 1 jigger Smirnoff to 2 of tomato juice, squeeze of lemon, dash of Worcestershire Sauce, pinch of salt and pepper. Shake with ice. Strain in glass.

VODKA & TONIC. Smirnoff has no liquor taste—so it never "takes over" in your drink. You'll find it leaves the tonic's flavor freshened—but unchanged!

VODKA HIGHBALL. For a tall, delicious cooler, add Smirnoff to ginger ale—or any other mixer. But also be inventive. Dream up your own Smirnoff drink!

House Agrees To End Alaska Statehood Debate, Begin Vote Late Monday

Washington (INS) — The House agreed to end debate on Alaska statehood late Monday after President Eisenhower made a new plea for the legislation.

Sponsors of the proposal to make the territory the 49th state won agreement to stop the talkathon at 5 p.m. Monday and begin voting. Final action is not expected until late Wednesday.

Approval of the limitation came at the end of the second day of debate and followed an earlier rejection of a similar move.

Rep. John Saylor (R-Pa) told the House he had been authorized by Interior Secretary Fred Seaton to say the cabinet officer and the President had conferred on the bill and that Mr. Eisenhower favors it "in its present form."

Change His Mind

Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Tex) an opponent of statehood, told the House: "I don't think the President knows what's in the bill." Rogers said if Mr. Eisenhower did, he believed the President would change his mind about endorsing the measure.

There were these other developments as House debate —now in its second day — became more bitter:

—An attempt by Rep. Way Aspinall (D-Colo) to end the talkathon at 2 p.m. Monday failed with an objection by opposition leader, Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va).

—Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas said the issue would be decided finally by "a razor-thin edge" in the House.

—Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland gave the legislation a boost by promising to make an attempt to attach a Hawaiian statehood proposal to the bill when it gets to the Senate floor, if Democrat leaders promised to call up the Hawaii bill immediately afterwards.

'Enough votes'

Knowland said he believed there "are enough votes" in the Senate to pass the Alaska proposal and expressed hope both statehood measures would pass this year.

The GOP leader added that he anticipated a Senate filibuster against the Hawaii bill but is convinced it can be broken if the measure is brought up early enough. Both bills, he said, should stand on their own merits.

Southern members opposed statehood for fear that it would mean 2 more votes in the Senate in support of civil rights legislation.

Unitarians To Observe Anniversary

. . . Church 60 Years Old

A Saturday night banquet and a special Sunday service this weekend will make the 60th anniversary of the founding of the Lincoln Unitarian Church.

Rev. Storm

The church was incorporated May 24, 1898, as a merger of the Unitarian an Universalist churches here and has since occupied the structure built a few years earlier at 12th and H by the Universalist Church.

Three charter members of the church, Mrs. I. H. Hatfield, Mrs. W. E. Hardy and Miss Flora Bullock, and a member of the Unitarian church which preceded the present church in Lincoln, Mrs. Maurice Deutsch, will be honored at the Saturday night banquet at the church.

Roger V. Dickeson, immediate past president of the church, will conduct the banquet, at which Homer L. Kyle, ranking past president, will deliver the principal address.

The sermon for the 11 a.m. anniversary service Sunday will be by the Rev. Carl A. Storm, minister of the Lincoln church from 1942 to 1947, who is presently minister of the First Unitarian Society of Minneapolis, one of the largest Unitarian churches in the country. His topic will be "Unitarians: Christian and Otherwise."

The Rev. Mr. Storm will also speak at the Saturday night banquet, and following the Sunday service a public reception at the church will honor the Rev. Mr. Storm and Mrs. Storm and the Rev. Peter Raible, present minister, and Mrs. Raible.

2 Centennial Committee Heads Named

Chairmen for 2 events of Lincoln's centennial celebration are Col. Hobb Turner, who will head the parades committee, and Ray Ramsay, who will chairman the royalty contest committee.

Preliminary plans call for 2 parades—one on the opening Saturday of Centennial Week which would feature floats and military organizations, and the other the following Saturday, May 9, which would be of a western type. Final plans on the number and type of parades will be determined by the parades committee, A. James Ebel, Centennial Corporation head, said.

The royalty contest committee's primary responsibility will be the selection of a Centennial queen or queens.

The actual contest for the selection of the queen will be but one of the events carried on prior to Centennial Week, Ebel said. The identification and crowning of the queen will be a highlight of the Centennial Ball.

Tests conducted by noted garden author and lecturer, John Paul Edwards

In just 3 weeks, ORTHO-GRO made this difference!

Plant on left was fed 1 teaspoon ORTHO-GRO Liquid Plant Food each week; plant on right was watered but given no additional feeding. At start of test both plants, in same soil, had equal growth and bloom.

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED! ORTHO-GRO supplied the plant with all essential nutrients for growth—nitrogen, potash, phosphoric acid—and because this rich organic fish formula is liquid, the plant absorbed them quickly. At the same time, the new chelating agent in ORTHO-GRO helped the soil provide iron and other important elements.

RESULTS: a flourishing plant with magnificent blooms while untreated plant shows only ordinary growth.

Get results all over your garden!

"Pushbutton" fertilizing! — apply ORTHO-GRO with the ORTHO Lawn Sprayer attached to your hose. 1 pt. concentrated makes 48 gallons of fertilizer.

Long Beach Area Rocked By Oil Blasts

2 DIE AND REFINERY WRECKED

Long Beach, Calif. (AP) — A chain of mighty blasts, a spectacular holocaust and knee-deep floods of burning oil and gasoline devastated a refinery at Signal Hill Thursday.

At least 2 men burned to death. The toll of injured, once feared as high as 14, later was reported to be half a dozen.

A stunning explosion, followed at intervals by others, heralded the disaster as big tanks of crude oil, gasoline and naphtha were touched off.

This was the start, as described by one employe:

Tremendous Blast

"From one tank in the middle of the field I saw what looked like mist rising. Suddenly it seemed to split and buckle and the oil poured out. Then came a tremendous explosion."

The 125 workers at the 15 million dollar Hancock Oil Co. refinery fled wildly. Some couldn't outrun the flaming tide.

Wayne Bradshaw, 26, who escaped safely, said the oil poured downhill at workers.

"It rushing down the roadway," he said. "One man stopped to try to get his car out. He was trapped by the flaming river. I saw him burn to death. He tried to run while he was on fire with oil all over him."

The victim was identified as Woodward Langford, 45, of nearby Los Alamitos.

Overtaken By Flood

The body of James Edward, 66, of nearby Fullerton, was found just outside the fence. It was seared and face down in a pool of oil. Firemen theorized the flood overtook him as he fled.

After the first explosion came nearly a score of others as flames raged through refinery equipment and a field of storage tanks. One blast sent a tank lid soaring 400 feet.

Within minutes huge orange tongues of flame were shooting hundreds of feet high over most of the 10-acre refinery tract. A vast pall of purple-black smoke blotted out the sun over southeastern Los Angeles county and neighboring Orange county.

Rifle Shots Killed Youths

Shots fired from this rifle claimed the lives of Jerry Sherwood and Diane Zaruba, Albion youths, according to authorities. The rifle lies on the dining room floor of the Mrs. Laura Tisthammer home at Albion, where Kermit Keeshan was also located, suffering from self-inflicted gunshot wounds. The stain on the floor is a pool of blood. Stories on pages 1 and 23. (Photo Special to The Star)

Cancer Fund Drive Tops Goal Almost $3,000; Total $21,939

The 1958 Lincoln Lancaster County Cancer Fund Drive topped pre-drive goals by almost $3,000, the local chapter of the American Cancer Society reported Thursday.

Wright

The drive, which occurred during the week of April 20, collected $21,939.93, including donations sent directly to division headquarters in Omaha and pledged funds not yet collected.

Drive results were presented at the annual spring board meeting of the local chapter, headed by Dr. Robert Hillyer, Lincoln physician. The goal, set by the local chapter, was $18,000.

Leslie Wright, Lincoln druggist, was elected as 1958-59 president of the chapter, succeeding Dr. Hillyer.

Other officers elected were Dr. Robert Ehrlich, vice presidnt, and Dr. Florence McKinney as secretary.

A. Q. Schimmel was awarded the first lifetime honorary membership by the local association for his service through the years in the interest of combating cancer.

The executive board announced that in the coming year it will initiate a program of lay education in the problems, symptoms and treatment of cancer. Dr. Ehrlich, head of the education division of the county chapter, urged all organizations or groups interested in cancer education to contact him, and films, pamphlets and information will be available.

Omahan Elected Head Of State Insurance Group

William M. Luedtke of the World Insurance Co., Omaha, was elected president of the Insurance Institute of Nebraska, it was announced Thursday.

Russell T. Derr of 3401 No. 70th, was named secretary-treasurer.

Both Luedtke and Derr were elected last Monday but formal announcement was not made until Thursday.

Write-In Effort For Weber Failed, Final Count Shows

Final primary vote tabulations in the 3 counties comprising the 16th Legislative District showed Thursday that Otto Weber of Leigh did not succeed in his efforts as a write-in candidate against incumbent Peter Claussen of Leigh.

In order to get his name on the November general election ballot against Claussen, who was otherwise unopposed in the primary, Weber needed 201-write-in votes in Colfax County, 196 in Wayne County and 119 votes in Stanton County.

Weber received 166 write-in votes in Colfax County, 8 votes in Wayne County and 79 in Stanton County.

Nebraska law requires that a non-political write-in candidate must get votes totaling 5% of the vote for governor in the last general election in "such county" in order to become a general election candidate.

One incumbent state senator, Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff will be opposed in the general election by write-in candidate Roy Greenwalt, who received some 2,100 write-in votes compared to the 623 he needed.

Carpenter received some 3,300 votes in the May primary.

Sen. Claussen received 944 votes in Colfax County, 1,010 in Wayne County and 1,084 in Stanton County.

Mexico City (AP)—The newspaper Novedades reports the life of Pablo Casals will be filmed in Mexico next year if he approves a script now being written. French Claim Seizure Of Arms Cargo From U.S.

Algiers (AP)—The French Admiralty said it has seized 9 tons of military material "Made in U.S." aboard an Italian ship named the Mina.

It said the cargo of gun magazines, electronic tubes and other gear was en route from Yugoslavia to Tunisia for delivery to Algerian nationalist rebels.

The ship is being held at Philippeville, a port in eastern Algeria not far from the Tunisian border, the admiralty said.

Hearing Set On Business Zoning

Application for local business zoning on the northeast corner of 17th and Burnham has been made to the City Planning Commission.

Duane G. Ellison proposes the site for a service station. Commission hearing has been set for June 11.

Re-zoning for the corner, now single-family residential, was turned down a year ago.

MUNY POOLS OPEN JUNE 5

Algerians Cheer For De Gaulle

. . . Wild Acclaim

Oran, Algeria (AP) — The leaders of the French insurgent movement in Algeria embarked on a barnstorming tour of the vast North African territory Thursday to add new vigor to their quest for a government of public safety in France.

The French commander in Algeria, Gen. Raoul Salan, Gaullist leader Jacques Soustelle, paratroop Brig. Gen. Jacques Massu and other officials made their first whistle stop in this west Algerian city.

Before about 150,000 widely cheering Europeans and Algerians, they reaffirmed their intention to keep Algeria French and restore France's international prestige.

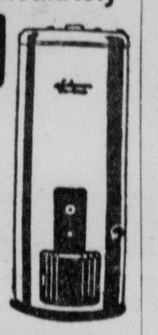

The massive throng cheered "de Gaulle to power" and 'Long live the army." There were cheers when Massu and Soustelle demanded Gen. Charles de Gaulle be called to power in Paris.

A Fivesome Of Texas Cousins

The eyes of Texas are upon us this morning—picture-wise, anyway. This fivesome of Texas cousins strange as it seems includes one from Lincoln—Mrs. F. A. Pierson who is, as you might guess, a native of the great state of Texas.

Mrs. Pierson has been visiting in Texas in recent weeks—She was the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Pierson in Houston, and visited other members of her family who reside in Texas.

In the group of cousins, from left to right, are Miss Miriam Partlow of Liberty, Tex.; Mrs. Pierson, Gov. Price Daniel, Mrs. Bernice Beard of Houston, and Miss Ellen Daniel of Austin.

The picture, as you plainly can see, was taken in Gov. Daniel's office.

Dear Abby . . .

Sharp Words!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You sure got my goat when you told the mother of a lazy teen-aged daughter to just close the door when her daughter kept it looking like a pigpen. I had trouble like that with my teen-aged daughter, but I blistered her back porch so she couldn't sit down for a week, and after that she kept her room spic and span. I say, "Spare the rod and raise a delinquent."

HER MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: We are not rich, but we are respectable people. Our son went to school in Maine and fell in love with a girl up there. We didn't know her folks and they didn't even send us an invitation to our own son's wedding, so naturally we didn't go. We go to Maine every year on vacation but so far we haven't called her people. It has been ten years and we have four grand children, but we are not going to make the first move because we were told that it was THEIR place to invite us to the wedding. Please advise us as life is getting too short. GROWING OLD

DEAR GROWING: If you WAITED for an invitation to your own son's wedding and then didn't go because you didn't get it, you certainly don't deserve much sympathy. For goodness sakes, let bygones be bygones and call her people.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: One evening my husband walks in with his father and tells me that his father is moving in with us. I said, "Oh no, he isn't!" So my husband packs and moves out with his Dad. Do you think this was a put-up job so my husband would have a good excuse to leave, or was I to blame?

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: This is the first time I've ever heard of a husband and his father in a package deal. Take Papa—or live alone and like it!

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

AROUND TOWN

—we not only are on the brink of the bridal season, we also are hovering very, very near to the vacation period for those who choose the summer months for holidays.

It won't be too long until June 9, and that is the day that Maj. and Mrs. John Phillips and their two sons, George and John, will leave—on the Major's leave.

The travelers will go first to Clifton, N. J., where they will be the guests of Maj. Phillips' family, Mr. and Mr John Phillips. From New Jersey Maj. and Mrs. Phillips and their sons will go to Sumter, S. C., where they will visit Mrs. Phillips's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Levy.

Maj. Phillips will return to Lincoln in July, but Mrs. Phillips and the two sons will remain in Sumter until August.

Fraser, Jr., on June 10, and Miss Marilyn Shope who has chosen June 14 as the date of her marriage to Keith D. Peterson.

A small group of guests was invited for a dessert supper — and a miscellaneous shower for each of the soon-to-be brides.

Lincoln and Amarillo—the arch-rivals of the Western League—are at it again.

The location is Sherman Field and the script is the same as it has been for the past two seasons—a dandy dog-fight.

Thursday night the two teams which went to the wire in 1956 and 1957, before the Chiefs copped the pennants, opened their 1958 scrapping in typical fashion.

The opening donnybrook saw the Chiefs come out on top, 6-5, but—as usual—the issue wasn't decided until the final out.

It took a masterful relief performance by lefty Bill Dial in the ninth inning to sew up the Lincoln victory which put the Chiefs back atop the Western League standings.

Monty Basgall's battlers are a half-game and 3 percentage points ahead of Sioux City, idle Thursday night.

The Chiefs and Eddie Bockman's Gold Sox meet in the second of the 4-game series here Friday night at 8 p.m. Dave Wickersham (2-0), recently acquired from Columbus, will pitch for the Chiefs against Amarillo's Jim Johnson (3-2.)

Dial had a king-sized chore facing him when Basgall waved him into Thursday night's game. A bloop pinch-hit single by Bockman, an infield squib and a sacrifice off Ed Bauta—who rescued starter Leon Hurst in the 8th—put Gold Sox on second and third with only one out. And Lincoln's 6-5 edge looked slim indeed.

But Dial calmly struck out veteran sluggers John Goodell and Al Pinkston—who was edged for the WL batting crown last summer by Chief Sam Miley—to preserve Hurst's third victory without a loss.

Prior to the heart-stopping action in the ninth, the two teams didn't give the 612 fans much time to relax.

Amarillo scored in the first, thanks to a wild pitch, but the Chiefs evened it up in the fourth when fast-stepping Julie Javier stretched a single into a double and tallied on an infield hit and an error.

Back came the Gold Sox in the fifth, with Dixie Upright doubling and scoring on losing pitcher Dick Bays' single.

Lincoln took brief command in the sixth, tallying 4 runs off Bays. Javier started it off by beating out a infield hit and Elmo Plaskett got hit by a pitch. Jimmy Campbell doubled them home and scored on Jim Williams' single to center.

Williams then stole second, skipped to third on an error before proceeding to steal home.

The Gold Sox refused to die. Helped by a pair of Lincoln errors, a single and pinchhitter Jim Russell's double, they pulled up 4-5 in the seventh.

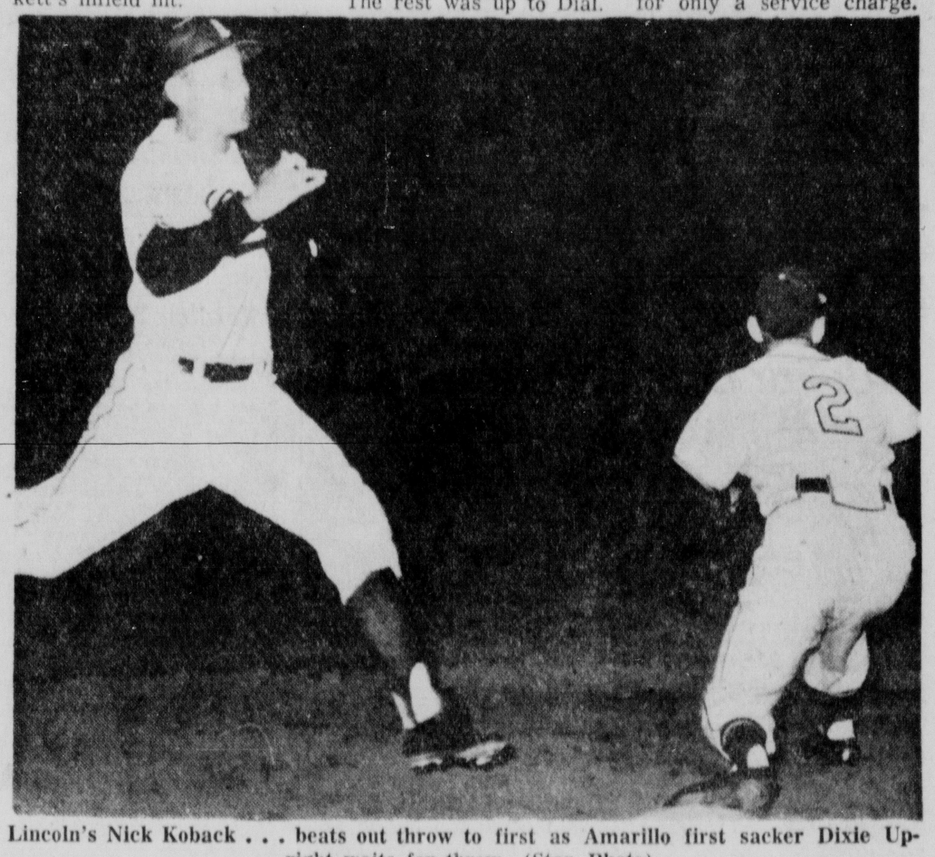

The Basgalls plated what was to be the winning run in the home seventh as Hurst walked, was sacrificed to second by Javier and shoved to third by Plaskett's infield hit.

Tony Washington singled him home.

After a double play got Hurst out of a jam in the eighth, Billy Shield singled to launch a new Gold Sox threat. A walk preceded an error which scored Shields and Basgall called on Bauta who doused the rally by putting a called third strike past Jim Johnson.

The rest was up to Dial.

POINT BLANK

☆ ☆ ☆

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

The Dodgers may have moved to Los Angeles during the winter, but they're still not settled.

In fact, the house is still in a mess. And it's doubtful that a fall house-cleaning session will have much effect on the situation.

Saddled with a football stadium for a baseball park, the Dodgers have floundered pathetically this year. With the season more than a month old, the once-proud gang of ex-Flatbushers are paddling along in the National League cellar.

And, as if this wasn't enough of a cross to bear—after the tragic loss of Roy Campanella—the Dodgers carping at each other with gusto.

Ex-Brooklynite Jackie Robinson blasts Dodger veep Buzzie Bavasi and Bavasi rips Duke Snyder, Don Drysdale and Don Newcombe, in particular, as well as the entire club in general.

About the only bright spot, from owner Walter O'Malley's standpoint, is that he's still banking money. But this won't continue long, if the Dodgers remain the NL "cousins."

It isn't often that I'll agree with Jackie Robinson's views, but he has come about as close to the truth as any one in summing up the Dodgers.

Robinson took time out from his soap-boxing to accuse O'Malley of letting the Dodgers fall from the lofty perch they achieved under Branch Rickey's administration.

The farm system has been allowed to deteriorate, said Jackie. And that's about the size of it.

While the Dodger stars—such as Snider, Gil Hodges and PeeWee Reese — have moved into the shin-splint, fallen arch and varicose vein era of life, there has been no apparent indication that replacements were moving up the ladder.

Just about a year ago, a member of the Brooklyn organization (who wished to remain anonymous, of course) stopped in Lincoln and confided:

"The Dodgers have to leave Brooklyn, because the fans there won't pay a dime to see what's coming up in the next few years.

"The only hope O'Malley has is to move to the Coast and make his money on the basis that LA fans will turn out because major league baseball is a new thing—regardless of the caliber of baseball.

"Brooklyn is all washed up and there are not enough major league prospects in the minor league organization to put in your hat. Actually, there's only one player in the minors who's capable of playing good major league ball."

Judging from the 1958 season, the fellow knew what he was talking about. And the LA situation brings up these questions:

Will the voters approve the Chavez Ravine deal (for a new ball park site), if they feel they've been stuck with a lemon?

Will LA fans buy a flopperoo after this year when the "newness" has worn off?

No wonder Dodger tempers are wearing thin these days. They've got problems, pal, real problems.

'Approve Chavez—Or Else'

Cincinnati (AP) — Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, served an ultimatum Thursday that if the Los Angeles Dodgers didn't get the Chavez Ravine for a new stadium he will recommend moving the franchise to another city.

Giles issued his lengthy 3-page statement about the possible future of the Dodgers at a luncheon with Los Angeles baseball writers.

Los Angeles residents will vote June 3 in a referendum to determine whether a contract by which the Dodgers would get the Chavez Ravine should stand.

"If the vote indicates we are not welcome," Giles said, "it will be my personal recommendation to our league that we take immediate steps to study ways and means of relocating the franchise in another city."

At Los Angeles, Councilman Patrick McGee called Giles' threat "an insult to the intelligence of the people of Los Angeles."

"If that is what this city and our people can expect from the National League, I, for one, don't want them at all," he said.

Councilman Patrick L. Rundberg, whose vote was the 10th and deciding one in approving the Dodger-city contract but who now is opposed, called Giles' statement "a new low in baseball.

"It is slanderous to baseball and to this city," he said.

Los Angeles City Councilman John Holland, leader of the group opposed to giving the Dodgers Chavez Ravine, called Giles' statement:

"The last desperate threat of a frightened group of greedy men. If the people of Los Angeles bow to this threat it will be to the everlasting shame of our city."

Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson backed up Giles, however, declaring the referendum would determine "whether we want to be classed as big league throughout the United States or whether we want to be classed as bush leaguers."

Braves Rip Giants 9-3 To Cut Gap

Milwaukee (AP) — The second-place Milwaukee Braves defeated San Francisco 9-3 Thursday night, gaining a full game on the National League leading Giants who saw their five-game winning streak broken by the eight-hit pitching of Lew Burdette.

The defending champion Braves pulled to within a game and a half and .024 percentage points of the Giants.

Burdette, who has been having his troubles since his World Series conquests, is now 4-3 for the season. Three of the Giant hits were collected by Orlando Cepeda who scored the Giants' first run and drove in two more with his 12th home run into the right field stands in the sixth. In

HOMER-HITTER STUART TO WED STEWARDESS

Salt Lake City, (AP)—Home run slugger Dick Stuart of the Salt Lake City Bees will marry airline stewardess Lois Morano of Greenwich, Conn., May 31, it was announced Thursday.

Stuart

The ceremony will be at the home of Bees' President Nicholas G. Morgan Jr.

Miss Morano's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Morano of Greenwich. Stuart's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stuart of San Carlos, Calif.

Stuart met Miss Morano earlier this year while he was in spring training with the Pittsburgh Pirates at Ft. Myers, Fla. The bride-to-be formerly was secretary to Congressman Thomas L. Ashley of Toledo, Ohio.

It will be the second marriage for Stuart, who set the Western League home run record with Lincoln, Neb., in 1956. He currently leads the Pacific Coast League with 14 homers.

Scorching 64 Sets Pace In KC Open

Kansas City (AP) — Tommy Jacobs, a pro only two years, equalled the course record with a 64 and led the Kansas City Open Golf Tournament after the first round Thursday.

The 23-year-old Jacobs, from Whittier, Calif., matched the Hillcrest Country Club competitive record set by Johnny Bulla in 1948. His eight-under-par game on nines of 32-32, four strokes under for each stretch.

Jacobs, the National USGA Junior Champion in 1951, scored an eagle three with a 22-foot putt in the 452-yard fourth hole. He birdied the second and third.

Playing a splendid iron game and seldom in trouble, Jacobs had two short ones for his four birdies on the back nine.

Until Jacobs came storming home, praying the light rain wouldn't wash out his fine round, Lionel Hebert, the PGA champion from Lafayette, La., held the lead with a 66.

Attendance Payoff To Aggie Coach Questioned

Austin, Tex. (AP) — State Auditor C. H. Cavness Thursday questioned legality of Texas A&M College paying its former football coach, Paul Bryant, one per cent of the gross receipts from football games in addition to his regular $15,000 salary.

Cavness said he did not ask Texas Attorney General Will Wilson for an opinion on legality of the contract. "We will not ask for an opinion," he declared. "We pointed out it was questionable. If it was clearly illegal, we would direct it to him for action, but it is up to him or the college now."

At College Station, Dr. M. T. Harrington, president of Texas A&M, said he had no comment although he had received the report.

"We believe the legality of a state contract providing for compensation on a contingent basis — the one per cent mentioned above — is subject to question in Texas," Cavness wrote

"We were told by the college officials however, that in their talks with applicants for coaching positions they found that this type of contract is not unusual in other athletic conferences over the country."

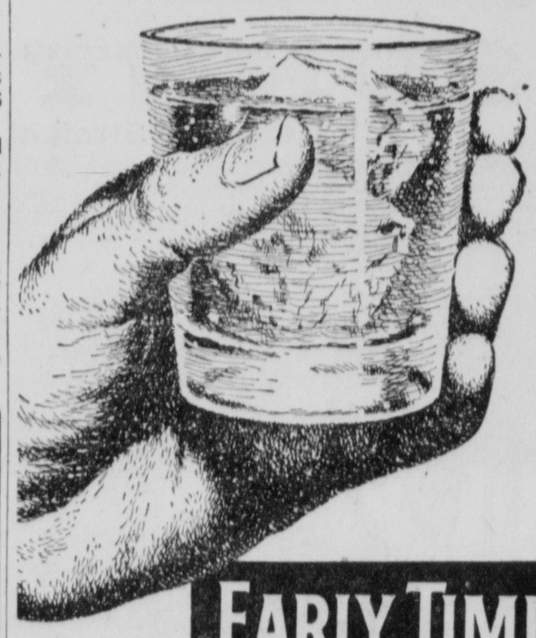

No gross receipts were listed in the audit. However, net gate receipts for 1957 were $527,527, the report said. Salaries and wages paid coaches during the year totaled $103,996.

Cavness also questioned a $7,214 payment for a former basketball coach "to cover the remainder of his contract at the time he become no longer employed by the college. Since no services were rendered for the period covered, there is a question as to the legality of the payment."

The true old-style Kentucky bourbon

EARLY TIMES

Always smoother because it's slow-distilled

There are less costly ways to make bourbon whiskies—but they'll never give you the smoothness you get in Early Times. The extra care and attention of slow distilling...the patient willingness to take twice as long... this is the old-style way, the smoothing way to make whisky. Next time, ask for Early Times.

Rademacher, Folley Bout Set For July

Los Angeles (AP) — Matchmaker George Parnassus announced Thursday that he has signed heavyweights Zora Folley and Pete Rademacher to fight in Los Angeles late in July, the exact date to be announced later.

Folley, of Chandler, Ariz., is a ranking challenger for the heavyweight title of Floyd Patterson. Rademacher, of Columbus, Ga., is the 1956 Olympic Games boxing champ who was knocked out in his first professional match by Patterson in Seattle last summer.

Parnassus said he has sent a telegram to Patterson's manager in New York offering the heavyweight title holder a $250,000 guarantee or 40 per cent of the gate, plus expenses, to defend his crown against the winner of the fight sometime in September.

Parnassus said he has arranged the Folley-Rademacher fight for the Sportsmen's Club annual "Fight for Lives," show, a benefit for the City of Hope Hospital at nearby Durarte.

Yankees Collect 9th Win In Row

Detroit (AP) — Rookie Marv Throneberry's second big league home run and the Detroit Tigers' shoddy fielding gave the New York Yankees their ninth straight triumph Thursday, 5-4, and tumbled the Tigers to their eighth successive defeat.

Throneberry broke a 4-4 tie with a leadoff home run in the ninth inning that gave relief pitcher Duren his first major league victory. Duren hurled the last three innings and the only damaging blow off him was an eighth inning pinch home run by Gus Zernial. That blow tied the score and set an American League record for lifetime pinch-hit home runs.

The Yankees now have won 13 of their last 14 contests and 22 out of 27 overall.

The defeat dropped the Tigers into last place, 12 games off the pace.

The Tigers made it easier for New York by kicking in with three errors that made three of the Yankee runs unearned.

8th-Inning Rally Wins For Indians

Cleveland (AP) — A pair of doubles and a single in the eighth inning produced two runs and boosted the Cleveland Indians to a 3-1 victory over the Washington Senators Thursday night.

Bobby Avila doubled to left field with one out in the eighth. After Minnie Minoso flied out, Preston Ward singled sharply to right, scoring Avila to put Cleveland ahead 2-1. Mickey Vernon doubled to left field to get another run home.

Smarting Chisox Topple Baltimore

Chicago (AP) — Smarting under a demand for increased effort from Vice President Chuck Comiskey, the Chicago White Sox Thursday blended a 10-hit attack with Jim Wilson's 9-hit pitching to defeat Baltimore 5-1.

The victory, combined with the New York Yankees 5-4 defeat of Detroit, enabled the Sox to escape the basement, where they had been roosting since April 26. The Tigers dropped to last.

Big 8, Big 10 Showdown This Week

17 NCAA Tourney Spots Not Yet Filled

New York (AP) — Seventeen berths remain to be filled for the 27-team National Collegiate Baseball Tournament, the NCAA announced Thursday.

Twelve of the places will be determined in weekend play, with showdown series in five major conferences and seven at large areas.

The final lineup will include 13 conference champions and 14 at-large teams from which eight district winners will be determined. The eight survivors will meet in a double elimination finals at Omaha.

Designation of Florida (15-5) as the Southeastern Conference representative and Florida State (20-5) as an at large entry during the week brought to ten the number of qualified teams. Arizona, Occidental, and Portland previously were named at large entries and Texas, Clemson, Western Michigan, Houston and Colorado State U. qualified as conference representatives.

Chief among the weekend games include Michigan State vs. Minnesota in a doubleheader Saturday to determine the Big Ten title, and Missouri against Oklahoma State in a three-game set Friday and Saturday for the Big Eight championship.

Delaware and Lafayette met Friday for the Middle Atlantic Conference berth, Vermont and Connecticut for the Yankee Conference title, and New Mexico and Brigham Young for the Skyline pennant.

Pflimlin Faces New Crisis

Fighting Breaks Out In Tunisia

Paris (AP) — An outburst of fighting between French and Tunisian troops in Tunisia Thursday saddled Premier Pierre Pflimlin with a new crisis in turbulent North Africa.

President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia broadcast news of the fighting as Pflimlin struggled to regain control of Algeria from rightists who demanded a government headed by Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Former Premier Antoine Pinay drove off to de Gaulle's country home to try to get him to persuade the Algerian rightists to accept Paris rule. Apparently he failed.

Pflimlin's cabinet approved a series of proposed constitutional amendments intended to strengthen the executive branch and thus take some of the wind out of de Gaulle's sails.

Confidence

The ministers gave Pflimlin authority to make adoption of the amendments an issue of confidence—meaning the government will stand or fall on the outcome in Parliament. They decided to seek a showdown in the National Assembly Tuesday.

Fall of Pflimlin's government now would almost certainly open the way for President Rene Coty to call de Gaulle to the nation's leadership. The Premier seemed confident this wouldn't happen.

Troops Sail

Marseilles, France (AP)—Two French troopships loaded with more than 4,000 soldiers left here late Tuesday night for Algeria.

The men were described as replacements for soldiers fighting the Algerian Nationalist rebellion.

Congratulations

Elizabeth, N. J. (AP) — Brides and bridegrooms to be will get a card of contratulations from the Police Department when they apply for a marriage license at City Hall.

But the card will also carry a warning against horn blowing in wedding processions.

Teen-Age Tragedy Saddens Albion Commencement Plans

Albion, Neb. (AP) — A teen-age triangle slaying that left 2 prominent Albion High School students dead and a third seriously wounded clouded commencement plans in this stunned northeast Nebraska town of 2,132.

The tragedy apparently climaxed rivalry for the affections of pretty, dark-haired Diane Zaruba, 17-year-old junior honor student from Cedar Rapids, Neb., who boarded in Albion during the school year.

Fatally shot along with Diane was Jerry Sherwood, 18, senior honor student who had been dating her for the last 2 years.

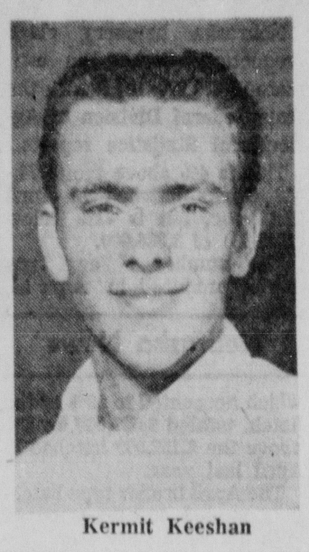

The third figure in the shootings was Kermit Keeshan, 17, also a junior, who had been having a few dates with Diane recently. Authorities said he fired a bullet into his own head after shooting the other two. He is expected to recover.

Kermit Keeshan

Double Services

Joint funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at Zion Lutheran Church at Albion for the 2 victims, the day after the commencement in which young Sherwood was to have had a principal role.

The Rev. I.C.G. Campbell of Fairmont, former Congregational pastor in Albion, will conduct services for Jerry, and the Rev. C. I. Schaff, present pastor of the Lutheran Church, will conduct the rites for Diane. Jerry will be buried in Des Moines beside his mother, who died of a heart attack 6 weeks ago.

Superintendent of Schools Gail Sims said the commencement exercises will be held as scheduled but the traditional speeches by senior honor students—including Jerry Sherwood—will be omitted. The speeches will be printed and distributed to the audience.

Jerry was to speak on "We Might have a Chance." Then he was to receive his diploma and a University of Nebraska Regents scholarship from his father, Lynn Sherwood, who just completed a term as president of the school board.

The elder Sherwood had an agonizing role in Wednesday night's tragedy. With both Albion doctors out of town, Sherwood, a pharmacist, was called to give first aid to the dying girl. He worked over her in vain for a half hour, unaware that his own son lay dead in another house a few yards away.

Thursday the parents of Diane and Jerry were in seclusion. Diane's father, Albert Zaruba, was hospitalized in a state of collapse.

William Keeshan, former mayor of Albion and former Boone County attorney, was at his wounded son's bedside in Omaha.

Boone County Attorney Ray Medlin Jr. said the shooting started when Kermit Keeshan, carrying a .22 rifle he had obtained at the home of his grandmother near-by, arrived at the home of Mrs. Laura Tisthammer, where Diane roomed and boarded. It was believd that Jerry had come there to take Diane to a church picnic.

Apparently there was a struggle and Jerry fell dead with a bullet in his heart. Diane fled screaming from the house and raced toward the Frank Svoboda home where Mrs. Svoboda was working in the yard. A shot hit the running girl in the leg, but she hobbled on to the side of Mrs. Svoboda who waved her on to the Svoboda back door and then faced Kermit quietly as he came up with the gun. Mrs. Svoboda said she slapped him hard in the face and he dropped his gun. She turned and went to the back door where she stood guard in front of Diane.

But young Keeshan recovered his gun and fired again, the bullet striking Diane in the chest. Then he walked back to the room where young Sherwood had died and fired a shot into his own head.

Deputy Boone County Attorney Ray Medlin Sr., said the wounded Keeshan youth will be charged with first degree murder.

Young Keeshan, 17, a junior, suffered severe head injuries in an automobile accident in 1956, and lay unconscious in an Omaha hospital for several days. Three years earlier he had fallen from a horse, a physician said, but apparently suffered no serious injury. An Omaha physician said the youth had been under psychological study and care during different periods since 1955. A brain wave test that year showed physiological brain changes.

An Omaha hospital staff member said that young Keeshan did not seem to remember anything that happened before he woke up Thursday.

Jerry, talented in music, was a pianist, trombonist, student director of the band and glee club, and church choir member. He attended All-State music course in Lincoln. In addition to his father, he is survived by 2 brothers, James and Jack, both of Omaha.

Ranking second scholastically in the junior class, Diane was active in music and 4-H club work. Her brother, Arlen, attends the University of Nebraska.

Caril Transfer Refusal 'Blocks Justice'

McArthur Brief Tells High Court

Lancaster County Judge Herbert Ronin's action in overruling Caril Ann Fugate's motion to transfer her first degree murder case to Juvenile Court is an affront to the orderly administration of justice, according to a brief filed with the State Supreme Court Thursday.

Lincoln attorney John McArthur, court-appointed attorney for 14-year-old Caril Fugate, and Edmund O. Belsheim, dean of the University of Nebraska Law College, signed the brief.

Deputy Attorney General Clarence A. H. Meyer will file the state's brief contesting McArthur's motion.

Oral arguments on the case will be heard by the Supreme Court June 6.

Caril Fugate has been charged with 2 counts of murder against Robert Jensen of Bennet, the same counts charged against her 19-year-old companion, Charles Starkweather, whose case was heard in Lancaster District Court.

McArthur said that under Nebraska statutes when a child under the ae of 16 is arrested and brought before a magistrate, the case shall be transferred to Juvenile Court.

He said there is no Nebraska case on record which holds that the meaning of the statutes involved "shall not be given full effect."

The brief asks the state's highest court to reverse the Lancaster District Court order denying Caril's petition for a writ of prohibition prohibiting Judge Ronin from holding a preliminary hearing in the case.

The brief contends the District Court erred in denying the petition and that its judgment is contrary to law.

Chief argument advanced by McArthur was citation of Section 43-211 which he said imposes a mandatory duty on a magistrate to transfer the case of a delinquent child under 16 to Juvenile Court:

Section 43-204

"When in any county where a Juvenile Court is held, as provided in Section 43-204 (in counties of over 50,000), a child under the age of 16 years is arrested with or without warrant, such child may, instead of being taken before a justice of the peace or public magistrate, b taken directly before such court, or if the child is taken before a justice of the peace or polic magistrate, it shall be the duty of such justice of peace or police magistrate to transfer the case to such court, and the officer having the child in charge, to take the child before that court. In any case the court may proceed to hear and dispose of the case in the same manner as if the child had been brought before the court upon complaint or affidavit as herein provided.

Referring to Ronin's action, McArthur said, "Yet acting in defiance of this mandate the appellee overruled the appellant's motion to transfer. Such action, we suggest, is an affront to the Legislature, to this Court, and to the orderly administration of justice under law."

Also contained in the brief was notice that the "constitutionality of a statute is involved in this case."

The defendant pleaded no contest to 4 counts of a 7-count information in Federal District Court here and Judge Robert Van Pelt assessed the corporation $50 on each count and Houchen $25 on each. The alleged offenses were between June and October, 1956.

POSTAL RATE HIKE NOW UP TO IKE

Washington (AP) — A 379-0 House vote Thursday put it up to President Eisenhower whether to raise postal rates by 550 million dollars a year.

The unanimous vote completed action on a bill that, in addition to raising postal rates, would increase postal employes' pay by 380 million dollars a year.

If Eisenhower signs the bill before the month is out, the cost of mailing a first class letter will increase on Aug. 1 from the present 3 cents to 4 cents. It will cost 7 cents, instead of 6, for an airmail letter and 3 cents, instead of 2, for postcard.

Rates on second class mail (newspapers and magazines) would be raised 60% on the advertising contest and 30% on the editorial portion of a publication. This would take effect in 3 annual 20 and 10% jumps, with the first one coming next January.

Third class (largely advertising circulars) rates would be increased 66⅔% in 2 steps. The bulk piece rate would go up from 1½ cents to 2 cents next Jan. 1 and to 2½ cents July 1, 1960.

The administration has been trying for years to get rates raised, so as to reduce the annual deficit shown in Post Office Department operations. However, this bill is 150 million dollars short of what Eisenhower asked in revenue and 220 million more than he sought in pay raises.

Most postal workers will get a 10% pay raise, retroactive to last Jan. 1 if the bill becomes law.

Lebanon Will Seek U.N. Action

... Against U.A.R.

Beirut, Lebanon (AP) — The pro-Western Lebanese government sought Thursday to win United Nations and Arab League support for charges that the United Arab Republic is guilty of "massive interference" in Lebanon's recent upheavals.

While government forces still battled insurgents, the cabinet met and Parliament's Foreign Relations Committee subsequently voted 7-3 to complain to the Security Council.

The government of President Camille Chamoun wants to pin the blame on the U.A.R. for 13 days of disturbances that have taken at least 200 lives throughout Lebanon. The U.A.R. has been accused of sending in arms and money, soldiers in disguise and directions for agents working to overthrow the Lebanese government.

Lebanon has complained repeatedly about movements into Lebanon from neighboring Syria, which with Egypt makes up the United Arab Republic. President Camille Chamoun says at least 100 Syrian military personnel have been arrested in Lebanon in the last 13 days.

STEELS SET BRISK PACE

New York (AP) — Steels set the pace for a brisk stock market rise Thursday but tobaccos were upset late in the session.

Key stocks went ahead from fractions to a point or more. Tobacco shares took losses of 2 or 3 points.

The market was higher from the start, widened its gains in vigorous trading then trimmed its advance in the afternoon. A spurt of selling in the tobaccos was a further dampener on the general upsweep.

Steels were helped by a number of factors in the news as well as a big short interest in the major steelmakers. Short sales involve transactions in borrowed stock which must be replaced at a future date when the short-seller hopes to buy them at a lower price. The shorts were "squeezed" by rising prices of steel shares and ran to cover.

The steels also were bolstered by the rising production rate in the industry, predictions by some steel executives of a price boost and the statement by Benjamin Fairless, head of the American Iron & Steel Institute, that there are good indications the nation may be on its way to recovering from the recession.

The rise of the cost of living to another record high, a drop in new claims for jobless pay and reports of a price increase for copper at the smelter level and a rise in steel scrap quotations at Pittsburgh were other factors.

Volume of 2,950,000 shares was the best in more than a week and compared with 2,580,000 Wednesday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 70 cents to $169.30 with the industrials up $1.30, the rails up 20 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

Of 1,185 issues traded, advances outnumbered declines by 633 to 277. New high totalde 140 and new lows 6.

American Stock Exchange prices were higher on volume of 810,000 shares compared with 780,000 Wednesday.

Wheat And Corn Lead Grain Gain

Chicago (AP) — All grain futures moved ahead in moderately active dealings on the Board of Trade Thursday, with wheat and corn the best gainers.

All wheat futures contracts advanced a cent or more a bushel while only one corn delivery failed to do that well.

The buying support overcame some profit-taking, particularly in wheat, but commission houses were persistent on advices of frost or freezing temperatures Thursday night in some sections of the spring wheat areas of the northern Great Plains.

The colder weather is expected to hit the Dakotas and perhaps northern fringes of the corn belt. Trade advices have reported for several days this region badly needs warm weather and rainfall.

At the close, wheat was 1⅛-1⅝ cents a bushel higher, corn was ⅛-⅛ higher, oats ⅛-⅜ higher, rye ½-1⅛ higher, soybeans unchanged to ¼ lower, and lard 3 cents a hundred pounds lower to 5 cents higher.

The grain pits have been notably free of hedge selling recently because of the scant cash offerings of grain, especially corn, at terminal markets. This has limited somewhat the offerings in futures pits. Trade slightly closer to commercial demand.

There was a small renewal of export business reported Thursday. Finland bought 300,000 bushels of spring wheat for shipment in June and Japan bought 373,000 bushels of soybeans for shipment in June and July.

Word that Denmark had gone to Manchuria for purchase of 9,500 tons of soybeans, as Holland had done earlier in the week, came as a disappointment to the trade. The report said the Manchurian beans were sold at $5 or $6 a ton less than the U.S. offerings.

Austria has been authorized by the Department of Agriculture to buy a million dollars worth of U.S. wheat with funds which had been allocated originally for purchases of lard.

Recession Shows No Definite Break

...Jobless Pay Bill O.K'd By Senate Unit

Washington (AP)—The current recession, a curious one in some ways, rang up new price increases Thursday and at the same time registered continuing gains in long-term unemployment.

Also Thursday, the Senate Finance Committee voted 11-4 for a bill that would permit unemployment compensation benefits to be paid for a longer time. The bill already has passed the House.

Both sets of figures on prices and joblessness were on the basis of April conditions and may have improved since.

Comstock Senior Tops NU Ag College Grads

... Honored By Gamma Sigma Delta

A Comstock, Neb., student was honored for high scholarship here Thursday in connection with initiation ceremonies of Gamma Sigma Delta, honor society of agriculture at the University of Nebraska.

Burt

He is Oscar Raymond Burt, who was recognized by the society for posting the highest grade average among members of the current graduating class of the College of Agriculture.

Burt's cumulative average is 8.22, with 9 being the highest grade category at the University. The Custer countian, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Burt of Comstock, will receive the senior scholarship certificate. He is a Navy veteran, is married and has 2 children. Burt's major is agricultural economics.

He is a member of Alpha Zeta, undergraduate scholastic fraternity in agriculture. He held the Farmers National scholarship for the 1956-57 school year, and the Stewart Memorial scholarship for the current school year.

He plans to enroll in the University of California this summer for further study.

Duley, Goss Cited

Awards of merit in recognition of outstanding service to agriculture were made to Dr. Frank L. Duley, professor of agronomy, and Dr. Robert W. Goss, dean emeritus of the Graduate College.

Dr. A. C. Breckenridge, dean of faculties of the University, was the principal speaker.

The following seniors, who ranked in the upper 15% of their class scholastically, were initiated into the society:

Oscar R. Burt, Comstock; Warren P. Clary, Lewellen; Kenneth S. Eng, Newman Grove; Eldon E. Ervin, McCook; William T. Howard, Elkhorn; Andris Kleinhofs, Lincoln; Newell E. Kollath, Stanton; Delbert W. Kuhlman, Bloomfield; John R. Lawless, Palisade; Clemens C. Otten, Pilger; Otto G. Schipporeit, Ainsworth; Dennis Sadlak, Clarkson; Don Silhacek, Norfolk; Robert D. Weimer, Creston; Leland Wittler, Jansen; Paul O. Yeutter, Jr., Eustis; Joseph E. Proskovec, Bruno; Arthur C. Zech, Brock; Jerry G. Medley, Lincoln.

Faculty members initiated: Clifford Ashburn, Deon Axthelm, Duane E. Loewenstein, Walter Spilker and Phillip S. Sutton, all of the Agricultural Extension Service, Norman R. Underdahl, staff member and George A. Young, chairman, department of animal pathology; Ellen L. Moorhead, plant pathology; and John L. Adams, poultry husbandry department chairman.

Dean W. Lancaster, assistant manager of the Nebraska Crop improvement Association, was initiated as an alumnus of the University.

New Oil Recovery Method Set For Sidney

A new method of recovering oil from fields once termed "spent" will be attempted in Nebraska.

The plan was announced by Ohio Oil Co., which maintains a district office in Sidney.

Ohio said it has invested $250,000 in the experiment, scheduled for trial at the Johnson field, 5 miles north and 4 miles east of Sidney.

Technically known as the "miscible phase development flood," the process has never been attempted in the Denvr-Julesberg basin and has only ben used a few places in the world, Ohio spokesmen said.

The Johnson field is one of Cheyenne County's oldest producing reservoirs. It was chosen, Ohio said, for the secondary recovery experiment because the "J" sand producing reservoir is located beneath a single lease and does not involve the time consuming process of forming a unit composed of several owners.

If the plan works, Ohio said, units undoubtedly will be put together in other regional fields where much of the oil would be unrecoverable without secondary recovery efforts.

Reservoir engineers estimated definite results from the process will be known within 18 months.

China now has a phonetic alphabet of 26 letters, simplifying its traditional complex systems of hundreds of ideographs.
